MESD needs $2 million to repair from floods

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Metrol-East Sanitary District President Walter "Shang" Greathouse said Tuesday that MESD is faced with "worlds of trouble" trying to repair breaks in levees, maintain the district and contend with huge electricity bills. He said the district may have to appeal to the federal government for disaster assistance if the state will not help.

"Two absolutely bad years" of weather have caused the problems and each time MESD starts to get ahead, more rains come, Greathouse said. Rainfall this year has been 150 percent of the average.

Because of the weather, MESD has had to man its nine pump stations on a 24-hour basis for 10 months during the last two years. Usually, the stations are manned only three months each year on a 24-hour basis, he said. "We haven't been out of the pump stations since March 9," he said.

The increased pumping is costing the district an average of $100,000 a month in electricity — or $1 million yearly — compared to a normal $12,000 a month, Greathouse said.

Besides the huge bills, there are 10 breaks in the 96-mile levee system operated by MESD.

Greathouse estimates it will cost $2 million to repair the breaks, get the district properties out of their deteriorating condition and clean the Cahokia Canal and Harding Ditch, the

Dad surely deserves more than a tacky tie Sunday

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

"American business firms which sell men's clothing have been especially active in making Fathers' Day popular," The World Book Encyclopedia, 1953.

For some reason, that comment just doesn't sit right.

When it was time to write about Mother's Day, all sorts of sentimental ideologies concerning the holiday were found, but there was no mention about how active florists and women's wear businesses are in promoting the day.

Apparently, the writers of the encyclopedia believed that Fathers' Day exists just to be sure dads get a few new shirts at least once a year.

The book does mention that Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Wash., started Fathers' Day in 1910 and the custom spread throughout the United States. Possibly, the popularity of Fathers' Day increased at the same rate as men's wear manufacturers.

But fathers deserve more than a holiday instigated by business people. Then again, if the instigators happen to be dads, they get a double dose, selling and receiving presents for Fathers' Day.

Most fathers undoubtedly have a closet full of tacky ties they've received as gifts on their day. Some dads might even wear the chateaus and orange creations just to be nice — much to the embarrassment of the moms of the world.

Dads certainly do enough to deserve their tacky ties. All the painting and mowing and handling over of money.

Oddly, dads always seem to get their work done so quickly that they can spare a significant portion of their lives snoozing on the couch with the TV on. If their children try to turn the TV off, they insist they are watching. That has always been a marvel; dads are probably the only species capable of watching TV with their eyes closed.

Another strong trait of fathers is the ability to hear a comment when they are two blocks away. Conversely, comments that are meant to be heard occasionally go unnoticed. Comments like "I need money," often must be repeated.

It is best to specify an exact amount, because fathers are not keen about handing over denominations containing zeros. Unless, of course, a loan is in order — usually with a low-interest rate.

Another strong trait is the ability of fathers to hear the door open, waking them from a sound comatose state. This occurs only during a curfew violation. It can be one minute or one hour — dads always recognize such an infraction.

Although they might grouch a bit at the time, most dads prefer to deal with the problem in the morning, rousing the violin at dawn to serve time for the misdeeds.

Dads also react well in emergency situations. They know what to do in case of famine, flood and fire.

They also are good at handling life's little crises generally by explaining that the cause of the uproar is not so monumental.

Through all the gray hair and lost sleep and money, dads usually maintain a good sense of humor and a well-balanced attitude about life.

For those abilities, they get Fathers' Day — presumably a day of rest and relaxation. And tacky ties.

Brimberry's trial Aug. 8

The trial of Thomas R. Brimberry, former Granite Cityan, on 12 federal charges is now set for 10 a.m. Monday, Aug. 8, in the court of U.S. District Judge Clyde Cahill in St. Louis.

The case previously was scheduled for June 24. It is alleged that he attempted to cover up some aspects of the Stix & Co. stock brokerage looking after agreeing to cooperate fully with investigators, and that he arranged for items to be removed from his former mansion here.

Jerry S. Maeras of Madison is to be sentenced tomorrow after pleading guilty to charges related to Stix financial transactions.

Brimberry is to be sentenced June 24 after being convicted last month of two of three counts in an obstruction of justice trial held at the federal court in Alton.

So far, six persons have been convicted of crimes related to the brokerage, which was closed by federal authorities in November 1981.

Firing due to $750 'lug'?

Yvette Manogian of Granite City is suing Madison County State's Attorney Don W. Weber for infringing on her civil rights—allegedly firing her for failing to contribute to his next campaign fund.

The federal suit, filed in East St. Louis, seeks reimbursement for lost wages and benefits. It asks for $100,000 in compensatory damages and $100,000 in punitive damages.

She told the Press-Record yesterday that the suit may be viewed by some as an outgrowth of the long dispute between Weber and James Barton, Madison County supervisor of assessments.

Her sister, Yvonne Manogian, works for Barton and Yvette often would walk from the Madison County Courthouse across the street to the assessment office annex to meet Yvonne for lunch in downtown Edwardsville.

Although the purpose of such visits was lunch, Weber became suspicious, she said.

Knowing that Barton and the Manogians are Democrats, the Republican prosecutor told Yvette he decided to "pick on her" because prosecution office activities were being "leaked" to newspapers, she contended.

Her lawsuit is being handled by Amiel Cueto, a Belleville lawyer who has written critical letters about Weber.

Miss Yvette Manogian told the Press-Record she was discharged Dec. 3, 1982, by Virginia Rulison, a member of Weber's office staff. Cueto's letters, among other things, discussed the friendship between Weber and Miss Rulison.

Miss Manogian's final paycheck was not released when her sister tried to pick it up for her; Yvette then appeared in person to obtain the check and had to sign a release purporting to free Weber and the county from any liability for her firing, she alleged.

She quoted Miss Rulison as saying repeatedly that the reason for the discharge was insubordination, not "politics." But Miss Manogian disagrees, and decided to sue for her losses. She has since obtained part-time work.

Bad feelings intensified developed when all of her fellow employees received a pay raise but she did not, Miss Manogian said.

She assumed it was a clerical error but, upon inquiring, learned the lack of a raise was based on a decision by Weber, she related.

It is being asserted that the state's attorney was seeking a $750 political

Angry debate over Jobs Bill

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Collinsville Mayor Gene Bromblich yesterday blasted the jobs bill appropriations distributed through the Madison County Community Development Office, saying that the monies were used for the political ~~and~~ interest of some county board members.

The county board Wednesday approved recommendations of the Community Development Committee and Citizens' Committee, which met June 6 to determine allocations, but both Bromblich and Troy Mayor Ron Criley sent letters to the board protesting the appropriations.

Granite City will receive $300,000 to repair sewer breaks, which now total 20, but the funds will not pay for all of the damages caused to the system by the high water table.

Some county officials and the two mayors are peeved about the large share of funds that were appropriated to the Quad-City area.

Fred Dalton, board member from Collinsville, read the letter from Mayor Bromblich, which was much harsher than Criley's letter.

"I have no alternative but to believe that Community Development funds are being used in a political self-serving way instead of being based on a legitimate formula for dispersing funds," he wrote.

That comment irked Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, who has found himself the brunt of the political accusations. "I don't appreciate that last statement from the mayor. This is not political."

"That $300,000 to Granite City for sewer repairs — you know why they say that's political. It's because I'm here. That money is only peanuts to what it will cost to fix the sewers. It's seed money," he said.

Accuse Quad-Cityans of 'hogging' most of the jobs

Hagnauer added that the committee, of which he was a member, but did not vote, had to set priorities for allocating the money and sewer repairs here was one priority.

"I'm sorry we didn't have $4 million, but only had $1 million," he said. Requests from municipalities totaled more than $4 million.

The jobs bill monies, he said, are to be used to employ people out of work for 16 weeks or longer. "I can understand the disappointment in some of the areas," he said.

Collinsville city and township filed four applications for requests, but only Collinsville Township received any funding. Troy requested funds for eight projects, three of which were approved by the CD office, but received nothing, Criley's letter said.

"For this type of funding to create jobs and relieve unemployment, the city of Troy feels that monies should have been dispersed equally among all communities within Madison County," the letter said.

Several county board members questioned the appropriations, asking how many laid-off workers would be employed by the projects.

Frank Vivod of Collinsville claimed that the jobs bill funds would not benefit those laid off from Granite City Steel and other area industries because the majority of projects will employ mostly those associated with the construction business.

Little relief for Venice from Emergency Jobs Bill

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Although Venice received some aid through Madison County yesterday under the Emergency Jobs Bill, city officials contend that the aid will do little to alleviate the city's problems of 25 percent unemployment and an average per capita income of only $2,055.

Venice was not shut out when the county doled out federally-financed jobs, while 49 out of 54 applicants were refused. However, the distressful economic condition in the city is far worse than in the majority of those applying for assistance, it was pointed out at Tuesday night's Venice City Council meeting.

Venice received a grant of $30,787 to upgrade Lee Park in Venice, allocated through the approximate $1 million EJB funds available and recommended by the Madison County Community Development Committee and Citizens' Committee. (The Madison County Board at its meeting Wednesday approved the committee's recommendations.)

A total of 54 applications amounting to $4.5 million in requests was received for EJB funds in Madison County. This amount exceeded the approximate $1 million available by 4½ times and resulted in 40 of the 54 communities applying for help receiving no aid at all.

However, economic facts of life in Venice were re-emphasized at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council when a letter from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development was read by Mayor Tyrone Echols.

The letter confirmed the level of distress in the community and extended the eligibility of Venice to participate in the Urban Development Action Grant Program (UDAG).

UDAG funding and EJB allocations are unrelated, but reports of both funding programs were heard at the meeting.

According to HUD's most recent review of conditions in Venice—per capita income is $2,055 and the percentage of poverty is 25.03 percent. The average age of housing in the city is 58.37 years.

The city of Venice has a total population of 3,480, of which 2,507 (72 percent)

Coast Guard offers water safety tips

Sun and sea worshippers beware: The season for boating and other water sports is here. And the U.S. Coast Guard, as part of its annual observance of National Safe Boating week, now under way, warns that 7,000 Americans will drown this year in recreational activities near water.

The Coast Guard also says an estimated 3,000 victims will be intoxicated at the time of the accidents. Another 1,400 will die in boating accidents, according to the Coast Guard.

Spokesmen for the Coast Guard and Underwriters Laboratories say the safest way to guard against drowning is to wear approved personal flotation devices (PFDs) whenever in or near water. Underwriters Laboratories, a not-for-profit organization testing for public safety, tests PFDs and other marine products to Coast Guard specifications. "At least 85 percent of the drownings that occur could have been prevented if the victims had been wearing PFDs," said Al Bernardi, managing engineer of UL's marine department in Tampa, Fla.

David Smith, a water safety expert and retired Coast Guard commander, says PFDs help maintain body temperature and keep people afloat when they are unable to do so on their own.

"Alcohol and drugs not only impair judgment and muscle coordination, they can help depress body temperatures to dangerous 'hypothermic' levels," Smith says. A hypothermic person is likely to have difficulty grasping a safety line or life ring or getting into a PFD. "If not caught in time, hypothermia will lead to death," Smith says.

Smith and Bernardi say anyone in or near water should wear a PFD — including boaters, fishermen, hunters, as well as swimmers. "Whether you're a poor swimmer or a strong swimmer in what might be a dangerous water situation, wear a PFD," Bernardi says.

The Coast Guard and Underwriters Laboratories spokesmen say that newer PFDs are comfortable and stylish and come in bright colors for easy sighting in the water. They also note that PFDs should be selected to the person's size and weight.

"The old-fashioned 'Mae West' is gone. A personal flotation device is just that;

TRUCKS RECOVERED

An Interstate Transport, Inc., 42-foot flat-bed truck trailer stolen from a truck parking lot at 1557 State St. in February 1982 was recovered by state police last week near Alhambra. State police in this district also located Thursday a 1975 pickup truck stolen May 30 from Mark Finch, 3906G Village Lane. The windshield of the Finch vehicle had been knocked out and a tender and door had been dented.

personal. Pick one like you'd pick a jacket, for fit and comfort and for your weight. Except you're not just picking a jacket; you're picking a friend for life," Bernardi says.

Move 5th Avenue car production to St. Louis plant

Chrysler Canada Ltd.'s Windsor assembly plant built the last of the 1983 rear-wheel-drive passenger cars, last week, starting the move of these cars for 1984 model production to St. Louis Assembly Plant No. 2.

M. J. Closs, president and chief executive officer, Chrysler Canada, drove the white Chrysler New Yorker Fifth Avenue four-door sedan off the final line.

Construction crews moved in immediately for the plant's four-month conversion to 1984 front-wheel-drive T-wagon production.

Assembly of the Fifth Avenue and its related rear-wheel-drive four-door models — the Dodge Diplomat, Plymouth Gran Fury and Plymouth Caravelle Salon — will resume in September in St. Louis for the 1984 model year.

The first T-wagons will roll off the Windsor line in early October.

Bank group warns against sale of bank to non-banker

An Illinois community banking association has warned that the decision as to what group will buy Chicago's ailing First Federal Savings and Loan Association could seriously affect all Illinois financial institutions and their customers.

The Independent Community Banks in Illinois (ICBI), representing more than 400 Illinois banks, revealed that bids to purchase First Federal have apparently been submitted by Sears, Roebuck and Company and Citicorp of New York through its recent acquisition, Fidelity Savings and Loan of California.

"Cross-industry, interstate acquisitions of financial institutions, whether failing or not, should be avoided," stated Richard A. Lounny, ICBI Cook County area regional vice president and president of the Devon Bank in Chicago. "Approval of bids by non-banks or out-of-state banks would germinate the seed of unrestrained interstate acquisitions planted by the few giant conglomerates that are poised to become financial super-markets," explained Lounny. "Congress should carefully examine the entire spectrum of financial-service providers to determine the ground rules before the proverbial cow wanders out of the barn and into the field."

The Illinois Legislature has solidly opposed the infiltration of Citicorp and other out-of-state giants into Illinois by repeatedly rejecting Citicorp-sponsored legislation to authorize reciprocal interstate banking.

Lounny expressed concern that cross-industry, interstate mergers could lead to an unhealthy concentration of financial resources and the eventual breakdown of the effective dual regulatory system for financial institutions. He stated that a dangerous coupling of banking and commerce could undermine a credit system which now serves individuals, small businesses and farmers.

"We believe that the self-serving efforts of a few financial giants to permit anyone to acquire anything through regulatory fiat could jeopardize the safety and soundness of the entire financial marketplace, and, in turn, weaken the foundation of the U.S. economy," Lounny cautioned. "Just look at the terrible experience of the big banks in international lending."

Accelerated deregulation has placed a heavy burden on every financial institution in the country. Allowing unregulated retailers like Sears a virtual free hand in banking would only quicken the pace of deregulation and further destabilize our financial system."

"ICBI and its 400 community banks join with the Independent Bankers Association of America (IBAA) as well as the Illinois Savings and Loan League to encourage Edwin Gray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, to make every effort to keep First Federal locally owned and controlled, preferably by an independent investor group, as opposed to a non-bank or an out-of-state bank," Lounny concluded.

A decision on the acquisition of First Federal is expected within the next two weeks.

Jeffrey Kittel earns Eagle Scout award

Jeffrey Kittel, of Scout Troop 15, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by Eagles Aerie 1126, was honored at an Eagle Court of Honor held at the Eagles Aerie Home on Madison Avenue. Jeffrey is an honor student at Granite City High School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Kittel. He has two sisters, Brigitte and Camille.

Lenny Stark, who is a member of the Uniwah District Committee and a holder of the Silver Beaver Award, served as Master of Ceremonies. Following the Eagle Candle Ceremony, Life Scout Donald Gray, Eagle Scout Steve Kusnierczak, and Mark Brazel gave the meaning of the Eagle Badge. Lon Stone, Unit Commissioner of Troop 15, then explained the requirements which must be completed in order to earn the rank of eagle. Assistant Scoutmaster Donald Gray, Sr., followed with a narrative of Jeff's accomplishments in scouting, which included earning 31 merit badges, being named a member of the Order of the Arrow, attending Camp Sunken three seasons and camp May one season, and earning the World Conservation Award. Also Jeffrey attended the National Jambooree at Port A P Hill, Va., in 1981.

Special mention was made of the fact that Jeff has been accepted as a staff member at Camp Sunken this summer.

Attorney Leo Konzen, member of the Executive Board of the Cahokia Mound Council, was feature speaker of the evening. He illustrated the way in which the scout motto of "Be Prepared" is appropriate not only in scouting, but in the rest of a boy's life as well. The Eagle Challenge was given to Jeff by Scoutmaster Karl Markovich Sr., and Troop Committee Chairman Robert Matosejan directed the Eagle Charge to Jeffrey. The Eagle Poem was then recited by Senior Patrol Leader Karl Markovich Jr., following which Konzen administered the Eagle Oath to Jeff.

Clyde Merts of Elk's Lodge 1063 presented Jeffrey with the Elk's Award. On behalf of the scouts of Troop 15, Scoutmaster Markovich gave the new Eagle Scout a commemorative plaque. Eagle Scouts Kusnierczak and Brazel then placed the Eagle neckerchief on him.

Finally, Scoutmaster Markovich bestowed the bronze palm on Jeff which is symbolic of earning five additional merit badges over and above those required for Eagle rank.

The Rev. Gary Perret of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, offered the benediction, after which, the scouts of Troop 15 brought the evening to a close by retiring the colors.

3 GC STUDENTS MAKE COLLEGE DEAN'S LIST

Three Granite City residents were among 139 students at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., named to the Dean's List for the spring academic term.

Jeffrey Draves, Janet Fox and Michael Matchett earned Dean's List honors. Draves, a sophomore engineering major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Draves. Miss Fox, a sophomore nursing major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fox. Matchett, a sophomore engineering major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Matchett.

To receive Dean's List recognition, students at Monmouth must achieve a grade point average for the term of 3.668 or higher on a four-point scale while carrying a full-course load. Founded in 1853 by Scottish Presbyterians, Monmouth is a traditional liberal arts college with 700 students and 65 faculty members.

Registration open for scout Day Camp

June 27 - July 1 are the dates set for Day Camp this summer by the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council. Any girl between the ages of 8 - 17 in the Granite City, Madison and Venice, area may attend during these dates at Camp Torqua, a council owned site.

Registration is open until June 24. Interested participants may call the registrar, JoAnn Arth, at 931-4569. There is a $10 per person registration fee. Bus service is provided at $7 per person, according to the council.

Day Camp Director Margot Clements has a fun-filled week of activities planned. For information and applications call the camp director at 931-3741 or the camp registrar at 931-4569.

McBride seeks Congressional probe of plan to import British ingots

Lloyd McBride, president of the United Steelworkers of America, has called for Congressional investigation into proposed importation by U.S. Steel Corp. of semi-finished steels from the government-owned British Steel Corp.

McBride, speaking to the House Steel Caucus, also called upon U.S. Steel to modernize the steelmaking facilities at its Fairless Hills, Pa., plant, where the imported slabs would be finished. And he urged the Congress to tighten up U.S. trade laws to the import restrictions on domestic steel plant modernization.

The union president was sharply critical of the proposed arrangement under which U.S. Steel would chase up to three million tons of semi-finished steel slabs produced at British Steel's Ravenscraig plant in Scotland, then finished at the Fairless plant.

He called the plan "ill advised and damaging," noting that it was damaging not only to Steelworkers, but to the continuing relationship of the USWA to U.S. Steel, damaging to the long-term interests of the domestic steel industry and to the nation as a whole. "I find nothing to recommend in favor of it," he said, "and much to recommend against it."

The union leader was critical, as well, of the testimony offered recently to the Steel Caucus by U.S. Steel Chairman and Chief Executive Officer David M. Roderick. He called the steel executive's presentation on the proposed arrangement, "skilful, but unpersuasive."

McBride was particularly critical of U.S. Steel's apparent decision not to modernize the Fairless plant, which he noted using U.S. Steel's own figures, is the lowest cost producer of hot metal among all U.S. Steel plants. "U.S. Steel simply hasn't made a case for rejecting modernization," McBride told the Steel Caucus.

The union president hit hard in his testimony at the U.S. Steel argument that the imported slabs would not be subsidized. He attacked as "nonsense" the concept that spinning off the Ravenscraig plant to a private company status "would somehow cleanse the plant of its prior acceptance of subsidy."

He told the caucus members that Ravenscraig would not exist but for subsidy. "I ask you," he said, "how much value would the plant have, and what would be the fair price for its products or the true cost of production if it first had to repay to British taxpayers all the subsidies which it has received?"

McBride expressed the hope that U.S. Steel will unilaterally withdraw from the proposed arrangement, and that the U.S. Commerce Department would take appropriate steps to include semi-finished steels in U.S. quantitative steel controls agreement with Common Market States.

This issue, McBride said, highlights the need not only for steel import stabilization measures, but also for effective mechanisms for tying such measures to modernization plans of domestic steel companies.

Following his testimony before the Steel Caucus, which was chaired by Rep. Joseph Gaydos (D., Pa.), McBride joined Steelworkers from the

ARREST VENICE WOMAN AFTER MADISON FIGHT

A Venice woman was charged with disorderly conduct by Madison police last week following a fight at the El Capatano Lounge.

Police said that when they arrived, Debbie A. Boyd, 19, of 201 Weaver St., was fighting with Derodney Crochrell, 1213 Logan St., Venice, outside the lounge.

Police told the two to stop fighting, but she allegedly refused and attempted to kick Crochrell.

Beer can ruling was a bit much

Associate Judge George Filcoff's ruling last week that a beer sale to a minor was not illegal because nobody proved that the unopened beer cans contained alcoholic beverages is an unhealthy precedent for the Madison County judicial system.

Almost without a doubt, unopened cans labeled as Busch beer will contain beer. They do 99.999999 percent of the time. The law concerned was not illegal transportation of liquor, which requires opened cans or bottles of alcoholic beverages be present in a vehicle.

Simpler than that, the illegal sale of liquor to minors involves only the transaction, not the transport or consumption of alcoholic beverages.

What is most unsettling, however, are the ramifications of Judge Filcoff's ruling. If there is a requirement that cans be opened for inspection or laboratory testing, then the illegal transaction becomes less important than the technicalities of the law.

Minors who purchase liquor and those who do the selling could, according to the ruling, have charges dismissed if the substance is not opened and laboratory tested.

The intent of those involved in the purchase and sale must be considered. One party wants to drink illegally and the other wants to make a buck illegally.

We agree that steps should be taken to keep minors from easily obtaining liquor. It is better to stop them before they drink than after they are drunk. Judge Filcoff's ruling nullified a county attempt to catch those selling liquor to minors and, in fact, tells those intent on breaking the law that technicalities are more important than the intent of the law.

Support for Steelworkers' drive

An editorial being distributed by United Steelworkers of America shows two British-type chaps standing before a U.S. Steel plant with the company sign reading "Under new management." The Brits are addressing a group of hard-hatted Steelworkers and saying to the workers, "Sorry, Chaps. We can't offer you any jobs here. There's a nice cup of tea?"

It is a topic in which we fail to find much humor. Possibly the largest single threat to the domestic steel industry is coming, not from without, but from within, from a company named U.S. Steel.

The company has proposed importing steel ingots and semi-finished steel from Great Britain and then finishing them at the Fairless Works in Pennsylvania.

Obviously, the government-subsidized British steel industry has an edge over the privately-owned, non-government-subsidized American Steel industry, and U.S. Steel is looking for a price break.

Nothing could be worse. If U.S. Steel goes through with the plan, other companies, including National Steel Corp., would, quite obviously, have to investigate doing the same thing. The steel industry is fiercely competitive and all companies are looking for ways to shave pennies from their prices to meet the competition.

If National Steel goes for imported ingots and semi-finished steel, the outlook for Granite City Steel would not be a bright one. There would be little need for coke ovens, blast furnaces, basic oxygen furnaces, continuous slab casters and many of the other facilities here which keep the economy going and keep people employed.

The whole idea of an American steel company importing steel just flies in the face of the American steel workers who have just made concessions to help the steel industry out of its slump.

United Steelworkers of America has put on a big push to block the U.S. Steel-Great Britain agreement. It deserves watch. The future of Granite City, and many other steel towns, could be in the balance. We hope the Steelworkers succeed.

Scott event too well attended

When Scott Air Force Base put out its first news releases on its weekend open house, members of the news media were told, "We need your help to get the word out." Apparently, we in the media did too good a job.

The annual open house is always a popular and well-attended event, but this year's was particularly so. The shuttle Enterprise, piggyback on its special 747 carrier, made the event a bit too attractive.

Approximately 400,000 people attended. Cars, pickups, motorcycles, vans and vehicles of all descriptions completely choked all eastbound lanes of Interstate 64 for miles. The backup started well before the O'Fallon exit, about six miles from the turnoff for Scott.

Once near Scott, traffic crawled along until the Thunderbirds began their aerial performance. Then traffic just came to a halt as drivers watched the intricate patterns and daredevil maneuvers in the sky.

For thousands, including us, that was all we could see of the open house. The air base was completely packed with people and there was no parking within miles.

There can be no doubt, the news media got the word out of the open house. The Missouri media must have done an excellent job, since more than half the license plates we saw there were from across the river.

Next year, we in the media should just remain silent. We won't tell anyone. Then we should have no trouble getting onto the base and enjoying the open house. Just kidding, Mr. Commander in Chief.

Says Greathouse not qualified for MESD post

To the Editor:

Will the fake administrative engineer please sit down.

I see here a clear case of Walter "Shang" Greathouse, an appointed politician, getting some money, $18,000 a year, that he was not qualified to receive. With the aid of a lawyer though, and some input of his own, wrote up a way to avoid state law requirements.

Now first, how does this man and the Metro-East Sanitary District board members who approved the expense pay justify it? For a year and a half, Greathouse has been driving a MESD car to and from work with MESD gas. This, while getting what is called "expense money."

About a year ago, the reason he gave was that he spent so much time at the MESD office and that if he could not be compensated, he would have to step down.

But just what does this man without any qualifications do that the crew of supervisors and secretaries couldn't handle? If it would overload the office staff, then why not either bring back laid off MESD office worker Mrs. Deloris Robinson or hire a new worker. Either way, the office worker would receive less than $18,000. Besides, it would free up Mr. Greathouse to do his main thing, selling houses. He then could get back to being a part-time appointed board member, as it was intended originally.

Now we citizens in the real world are watching as "Shang" soaks up our tax dollars that should be spent for a qualified person, and I wonder if he shouldn't have to pay that money back. It just isn't quite right.

GLAD YMCA HAS A FLAG FLYING

To the Editor:

It is quite a welcome sight to see the American flag flying from the downtown YMCA building after so many years of being absent. It was especially noticeable, "Ole Glory" being on location starting with Flag Day.

The flag is a welcome addition in displaying our pride in America and showing our colors.

Congratulations to the YMCA for its patriotism and to the veterans' organization which donated the flag and fire department for attaching the flag at that great height.

Long may it wave.

Warns against improper ad solicitations

To the Editor:

Your recent editorial concerning the Fraternal Order of Police (F.O.P.), Troopers' Lodge 41 solicitations for magazine advertisements has been brought to my attention. Since I share your concerns about these solicitations, I felt it appropriate to provide you with an explanation of our position on this most sensitive matter.

For your information, we have contacted the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, Office, Illinois Medical Society, Illinois Dental Society, Illinois State Bar Association, Illinois Retail Merchants Association and the Illinois Farm Bureau regarding this matter. In our letter, which I personally delivered, we explained the problems we have experienced with the solicitations. We further explained that the Illinois State Police does not publish a magazine, nor do we solicit advertising for any publication.

From the inception of "The Trooper" magazine, the Division of State Police has had to deal with numerous inquiries from concerned business and professional people about the methods employed by persons soliciting them for donations.

The F.O.P. has entered into an agreement with solicitors whereby they receive control of what the solicitor says when prospective clients are called. However, since the solicitors are paid on a commission basis, which carries with it an incentive to secure as many advertisements as possible, the caller is free to deviate from the approved format. We have found instances where improper statements are made with regard to who the caller represents and what the money will be used for. The F.O.P. has found it difficult for its representatives to monitor every call that is made.

Some solicitors have implied that they were members of the Illinois State Police or, that by dealing with advertising space, special privilege could be gained. In other instances, current issues, such as the death of a trooper, are used with the solicitors implying families will directly benefit as a result of the purchased ad.

In one instance, prospective advertisers were told troopers would benefit from the purchase of protective vests. Our officers were provided with department issued protective vests last year. In reality, a substantial portion of the funds received by the F.O.P. from the caller is used to support the organization and in lobby efforts with the Illinois General Assembly.

Because of the continuing problems with these unethical and improper activities, we sought legislation at this session of the General Assembly which would prohibit telephone solicitations. What potential contributors are told or promised would be much more easily controlled if such solicitations were required to be in writing. Unfortunately, however, we were unable to obtain a sponsor for the proposed bill. We will try again next year to have this legislation passed. In the meantime, let me assure you that we will do everything within our power to see that persons who falsely represent themselves as State Police officers of commit any act that is unlawful will be prosecuted for their offenses when the necessary evidence can be developed.

Those who donate money in return for advertising in this publication gain no special favors from the State Police, nor should they in any way feel compelled to contribute to the organization.

A tip of the hat to Granite City employees

To the Editor:

I would like to express my appreciation to the city of Granite City for excellent service rendered in the past few weeks. We are living in a society which does not reward excellence, nor does it reward hard work, and therefore, we settle for mediocrity.

Each and every one of us must attempt to change this negative trend. Most of us just want to hear, "job well done," when we give extra effort in our work.

I would like to start by recognizing city services which have seen exceptional performances recently. I'm sure these services have always been on a high plain, but they become more evident in time of crisis.

The evening that the tornado hit Granite City, we were on the fringe of the storm at Nameoki Village Shopping Center. In less than five minutes, our police department went into action and had complete control of a situation, which could have gotten out of hand very easily. They were prepared, organized and competent. Job well done!

Our street department — deluged by flooding, tree damage and debris removal — has been putting forth wonderful services to people with flooded basements, fallen trees and limb removal, which was a monumental task. Job well done!

Recently, a crisis which called upon the ambulance and paramedic division of our fire department was so expertly serviced with expediency, expertise and a sincere caring that words cannot express the appreciation of that family — job well done!

Our garbage disposal division, whose employees never cease to amaze us with the price they take in doing this most important job, worked under the stress of impassable streets, sightseers and many other obstacles to stay on schedule. To the men who service our area, we appreciate their promptness, the neat and clean way they do their job. A job well done!

Our traffic division of the police department aided thousands of people who watched the Shrine parade last week, in leaving the area. Again, they were organized, professional and well prepared. Job well done!

Our personal commendation to the people behind the scenes who help to make all these services possible and never get any recognition for a job well done.

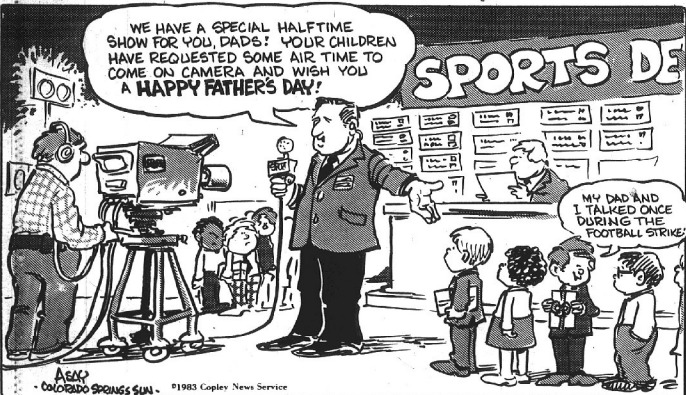

It's time we all take pride in our jobs, our homes, our city streets, our parks — stop littering, leaving trash in the streets, etc. Experience can defeat mediocrity, if we recognize it and give credit where credit is due.

BALLOON TRAVELS FROM GC TO INDIANA

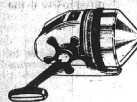

A bundle of helium-filled balloons which was released during the Shrine Parade in Granite City June 6 was found this week in Jasper, Ind., approximately 300 miles from here.

The balloons bore the name, address and phone number of J. Scotts hair design shop in Granite City and the Indiana resident who found them notified employees there where the balloons had been found.

Mrs. Katharine Barth, 88, formerly of Granite City, died at 1 a.m. Tuesday, June 14, 1983, at the Gietner Nursing Home in St. Louis, where she resided 3 1/2 years.

She was born in Yugoslavia, and made her home in this area many years before moving to St. Louis.

Her husband, Frank Barth Sr., died July 19, 1961.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Anthony (Mary) Geiser of Webster Groves, Mo.; five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Visitation will begin at 2 p.m. today at Piper Funeral Home, 1929 Cleveland Blvd., where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. A funeral mass will begin at 9 a.m. Friday, June 17, at St. Joseph Catholic Church, 2401 State St., with burial in Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Selma Beck

Mrs. Selma M. (Augustine) Beck, 91, the mother of a Granite City woman, died at the Hill Home in Alhambra, Wednesday, June 15, 1983, at 1:35 p.m.

Born in Saline Township near Highland, Mrs. Beck lived near Grant-ford. She was a member of the Grantfork United Church of Christ and the Women's Guild at the church.

Her husband, George Beck, died in 1974. Two brothers and one sister also preceded her in death.

Survivors include one son, George O. Beck, Grantfork; two daughters, Mrs. Clarence (Lucille) Etheridge, Granite City and Mrs. Merline (Gloria) Gusewille, near Edwardsville; one brother, Otto Augustine, Jeffersonville, Mo.; one sister, Mrs. George (Lily) Zobrist, Alhambra; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Visitation will be Friday, June 17, from 5 to 9 p.m. at the Meridian Funeral Home, Ninth and Washington, Highland, and Saturday until 11 a.m. at the funeral home. Visitation will continue at Grantfork United Church of Christ until the start of funeral services there at 2 p.m. Saturday by the Rev. Burt Boonhan. Burial will be in the Grantfork United Church of Christ Cemetery. The family requests memorials be made to the Grantfork United Church of Christ.

Robert Blevins

Robert W. Blevins, 97, of 2706 Cayuga St., a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area, died at 3:50 p.m. Monday, June 13, 1983, at Colonial Haven Nursing Home.

Regional superintendent receives county raise

By NANCY WEBB

The regional superintendent of schools received a $5,000 raise Wednesday from the Madison County Board, although several board members urged that the resolution be tabled until July, since the state legislature is considering a bill that would give all regional superintendents the same wage increase.

Vasil Edtmoff of Granite City made a motion that the board wait until the legislative session ends June 30 before voting on the raise. That motion was defeated on a vote of 8 to 19.

Regional Superintendent

Harold Briggs presently earns $39,000, and that position has not received a raise since 1979, Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, county board chairman, said.

Edtmoff said he supported giving Briggs a raise, but objected to allowing the increase in the legislature passed its bill, because "a $10,000 is too much."

Originally, the bill called for a $10,000 yearly increase for regional superintendents, but the raise was changed to $5,000.

"I come from a district where the superintendent and administrators (of the schools) are taking a 10 percent (wage) cut," Edtmoff said. He will retire June 30 as administrative assistant for pupil personnel services of the Granite City School District.

Hagnauer said he understands the situation here, but supported the county raise. Regardless of what state lawmakers may decide.

There was some disagreement about the status of the bill, with several board members arguing that it probably will not pass during the current session.

Charles Burns of Edwardsville said the bill was tabled in committee, and "for all practical purposes, the raise (from the state) is dead."

Alan Dunstan of Troy wanted to amend the resolution to say that the county would withdraw its wage increase if the legislature passed that motion failed 24 to 4.

Some board members said they were given the impression that the county had to decide now and could not wait until July to vote on the raise.

COURT APPEARANCE

In response to a warrant being issued for her arrest for failing to appear in court on a speeding charge, Donna C. Becker, 30, of St. Louis, reported to Granite City Police Headquarters at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday. She pleaded guilty in an appearance before a judge and was fined $125 and released.

CHRYSLER CORP. paid off $400 million of its $1.2 billion federal loan guarantee on Tuesday, June 14, 1983, seven years ahead of schedule. The auto maker is now profitable again.

Falling interest rates, continued economic recovery and IBM earnings optimism sparked gains Wednesday that raised the stock market average to a record index of 1,237.79, topped the 1,232 attained May 6. Industrial out-

The U.S. Supreme Court Wednesday overturned state and local-level limits on abortions. It said it is unconstitutional to require that fetuses be disposed of in hospitals rather than clinics, or to require that fetuses be disposed of in humane and sanitary ways. Doctors need not observe a 24-hour waiting period, need not describe a fetus as a human life, and need not tell of options for carrying a child to term, the justices ruled 6-3.

Illinois Senate action on a state income tax boost was delayed Wednesday by Sen. Frank Savickas, who said Chicago would not get enough revenue from it.

The General Accounting Office said Wednesday nearly three-fourths of the federal budget is made up of subsidies for first-time home buyers in 1982 went to lawyers, wealthy investors and other "middle men."

IS THERE NO END? Westbound motorists on McKinley Bridge Wednesday afternoon wonder whether traffic on the bridge will ever get moving again. The bridge was blocked for nearly an hour because of an injury accident on the St. Louis side. A car driven by Ir-

Seek to 'sweeten the pot' to attract new industries

Granite City industrial search committee members held a brainstorming session this week to determine what incentives the city could offer to attract new or expanding firms, in an effort to combat the city's high unemployment figures.

Waiting to hear what the committee decides are a steel-processing firm and a warehousing company, both considering moves here, according to Seventh Ward Alderman Paul R. Bowler, industrial search chairman.

The committee should rapidly move ahead with a firm policy to show these companies what the city can offer, Bowler said. The city council already has given the committee initial permission to spend $5,000 for industrial search projects.

The steel-processing firm interested in opening a branch operation here contacted City Attorney John Papa last week and is apparently seeking property tax abatements, an example of one incentive the city could choose to give under current state laws.

Like the steel-processing firm, Papa said, most companies already know what type of incentive packages they want.

"Chances are the city could accommodate most people," Papa told the committee when it met at Bowler's home Monday evening. "Illinois is a state that provides such framework."

The steel firm has apparently begun negotiating for a local building site and has talked with companies that have available space. If it decides to locate here, the firm could provide the community with up to 50 jobs, Bowler said.

The warehousing firm has indicated a preference for its own incentives package, which includes $5 million in industrial revenue bonds, according to Bowler. The city currently has the authority to issue such bonds that offer low-interest to borrower and tax-exempt status for the investment. The city is not liable for the bonds.

Bowler pointed to his own membership in the St. Louis Regional and Commerce Growth Commission as a source of information for the group. Search committee members Sixth Ward Alderman Woodrow "Woody" Mead and Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon S. Perjak also cited their business connections as possible sources of information.

"We'll have to tie up a little gift package (for industries)," Mrs. Perjak said.

Among the gifts Granite City could present to new and expanding local industries would be a property tax moratorium for up to 10 years, not to exceed $1 million. City taxes, however, are less than a quarter of the property tax dollar, so city officials might have to expand the operation of the school district and other taxing bodies to sweeten tax breaks for industries.

Seventh Ward Alderman Casper Skubish, another industrial search member, said the city would then have to consider the consequences of residents bearing the property tax load of private industries. The city also would have to consider that some local industries currently paying taxes, but planning no expansions, might demand the same tax breaks as new industries. The result could be a weakened tax base.

"I would favor tax abatements to a certain degree," Skubish said, "but any tax-exempt business would add to the tax bill of the people that live in the city."

The alderman added, however, that the city will have trouble finding jobs for its residents without some type of action and dedication by the entire community.

Also attending the meeting was Fourth Ward Alderman Phillip Miller, who conducted a sanitation committee meeting prior to the industrial search committee session.

WARRANT ARREST

Rena M. Deal, 33, of 114 Garesche Homes, Madison, was arrested at the Madison Police Department at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday on a warrant alleging failure to pay the fine on a retail theft charge. She was transferred to Granite City police headquarters and released after posting a $102 cash bond.

SERVE WARRANT

Chris G. Smith, 21, of 2420 Madison Ave., was arrested here at 7:05 p.m. Tuesday on a warrant alleging failure to pay the fine on a disorderly conduct charge. He was released upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Burglary charges filed against 2

Informational documents alleging burglary were issued Tuesday by the Madison County state's attorney's office against Fred R. Welch, 19, of 1700 Delmar Ave., and Anthony Wallace, 17, of 2235 Ohio Ave.

The pair was charged in connection with the burglary of a parked GMC camper truck, belonging to Joe Yelnek, 1700 Delmar Ave., reported June 10, in which a camper window was opened and a six-tray fishing tackle box, rods and reels and a telescope, fiberglass pole were stolen.

Taken into custody while walking at 20th and Adams streets at 4:55 a.m. June 10, Welch was held on an outstanding warrant and Wallace for curfew violation prior to the informational documents being issued.

two main arteries in the system.

The Cahokia Canal takes all drainage water out of Madison County and the Harding Ditch is the main artery for St. Clair County.

The rain has caused the canal and the ditch to fill with debris, which keeps the arteries from flowing properly. Cleaning them is a costly process that has been frequently necessary the last two years.

Levee breaks are another story. Not only must the MESD contend with rain that batters the levees, Greathouse said that people and groundhogs also cause problems.

Some people take four-wheel drive vehicles and motorcycles on to the levees, creating gulleys and ruts in the ground. When it rains, the soft spots fill with water and eventually break or cause slides.

The groundhogs dig their holes in the levees and when the rains come, water fills the holes and the levees break in spots.

Each time a break has occurred, Greathouse has prepared a damage survey report and presented it to state officials and the Emergency Services Disaster Agency. "We've never gotten a nickel from anybody," he said. "No one seems to want to do anything about it. We have too much to do and nothing to do with."

Greathouse said he has exhausted nearly all the alternatives for assistance, except appealing to the federal government.

The Mississippi River presently is holding at about the 17-foot mark and Greathouse said, "We've got to get the breaks (repaired) while the river's down."

He said that water gushing through the levee breaks is "frightening."

In addition to the breaks and high bills, Greathouse told the Board of Commissioners that vandalism and theft continue to be problems. "We had our usual Monday morning confusion," he said. During the weekend, thieves stole two batteries owned by the MESD, it was learned Monday morning.

The batteries were left on Bunkum

Road in St. Clair County at an MESD work site. Greathouse said they were in plain view of the road.

The batteries cost about $120 each and are used to operate equipment at drainage and flooding sites. Greathouse said they are large and heavy, requiring two men to lift one of them. Because of their size, the batteries are left at the work site at the end of the workday.

Greathouse said MESD employees have bolted the batteries down to make it more difficult for vandals to take them, but it hasn't helped. "This is not an occasional problem. It happens every week," he said.

He said he will ask the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department to watch the area.

The commissioners also learned that someone drove through a gate placed on the levee at the spillway in the Lewis & Clark State Park. That area also is to be watched by police and Greathouse said that if anyone is caught trying to break through a gate or bridge, he will be arrested.

Fund reserve is key to GC college plan

By BILL WINTER

Belleville Area College District 322 is holding the line with no increase in its tax rate. And the bulk of its projected tax levy increase results from uncertainties about state financial aid—uncertainties which may be clarified by legislators in the next two weeks.

But the creation of the Granite City Center—a two-year college at the former Granite City High School North—does represent a financial commitment. The commitment was made possible by the district's ability to create a financial reserve in the 1980s.

Explanations of the college planning here have been presented to a number of local organizations at this spring. Typical was the program at a meeting of the Quad City prayer breakfast group.

mayor stated that he has yet to be officially notified that the Venice application was denied, but has read the list of approved communities in the newspaper.

A month ago, that it was either us or Decatur who would be named. I believe that I went to Decatur with East St. Louis being so close to us," he added. Mayor Echols commented after the meeting that the city will resubmit its application for Enterprise Zone designation next year.

Under the law, the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) can name up to eight Enterprise Zones each year for six years, with the terms of the benefits to run up to 20 years.

DCCA Director Peter B. Fox said, "While each area for which we received an application qualified as a depressed area, we were restricted by the law to name only eight zones this year. We encourage the localities which were not named this year to reapply for consideration in 1984, and we will work with them and others to help them comply with all application requirements."

Nineteen areas sought Enterprise Zone status which provides incentives and advantages to foster economic development in depressed areas of the state.

Director Fox said, in a May 25 letter to Mayor Echols that he had asked Curtis Galloway and Mark Spizzo of the DCCA marketing staff to meet with the Venice mayor and provide information about assistance programs which could be applicable to the community's businesses.

Rutkowski advances to soccer semis

The Rutkowski Construction Under 16 girls soccer team of Granite City advanced to the Illinois Youth Soccer Association Cup finals with a 1-0 win over Collinsville Saturday.

Rutkowski plays the Salt Creek Peppers of Palatine in a semi-final game Saturday in Chicago. If Rutkowski wins Saturday, it plays the Orange Crush team from Palatine in the championship game. The winner advances to the United States Soccer Association Region II finals in Omaha, Neb., July 15-17.

Rutkowski is the defending state champion in the division. "I think we can win it again," said Rutkowski Coach Bill Drum. "We have a good bunch of girls who like to play soccer."

Collinsville was no match for Rutkowski. The Granite City girls took a 2-0 halftime lead and scored three goals in the first three minutes of the second half to put the game out of reach. "We played an excellent game," Drum said.

president, said trustees agreed to invest a half-million dollars, $250,000 in each of the first two years, to help get GCC established.

With no state funds available to create new college centers, the reserve funds were allocated as an essential step.

The expanded enrollment will bring in revenue, but under state law there is no immediate impact on state-level financing for District 322 students.

It is hoped to increase northern-area District 322 college attendance from the present nine percent to 25 percent of high school graduates.

An appointed five-member local board will advise the seven elected trustees. The first three GCC panelists named are Carl Mathias, Drew Karandjeff and Leo Konecny.

Enrollment for the term opening in late August is proceeding this summer at the GCC (North High) building, Maryville Road and Highway 203 (Nameoki Road).

Capt. Jeffery Beyer to return in August

Capt. Jeffery T. Beyer, son of Lester "Bud" and Dorothy Beyer, 2592 Lynch Ave., will return to the area to work at McDonnell-Douglas Corp. in August.

Beyer is stationed in Cheyenne, Wyo., where he works as a contract management officer between private industry and the U.S. Air Force.

Previously, Beyer was assigned with the 30th Strategic Air Missile Wing of the Air Force, also in Cheyenne.

Beyer, 27, graduated from the University of Wyoming in Cheyenne with a master's degree in business administration. He obtained his bachelor of science degree in mass communications from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1977. He is a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School.

In semi-annual evaluations, Beyer has consistently received superior officer ratings, including a perfect, 5.0 evaluation in May, 1979, for his work with the Minuteman II Command Data Buffer System.

Active in youth programs, Beyer has worked with the Cheyenne Special Olympics and baseball programs.

He and his wife, Kimberly, 26, are expecting their first child in July. She is the daughter of Frank and Donna Sparks of Rosewood Heights.

PLEADS GUILTY TO DISORDERLY CHARGE

In a court appearance at 2:30 p.m. Monday, Donald T. Marcus, 2242 State St., pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. He was fined $300 and was released.

Marcus was arrested early Monday morning when he was warned to return home after being found in neighbors' yards on State Street on two separate occasions.

Open bids on state road projects June 28

Illinois Transportation Secretary John D. Kramer, Thursday announced that the Department of Transportation is soliciting bids for federal-funded road improvements valued at $145 million. This will be the largest one-time solicitation for bids in eight years and includes several area projects, including resurfacing Madison Avenue from Second Street in Madison to 20th Street in Granite City.

The bids on various road improvements will be opened June 28 with construction work beginning in July.

The primary reason for the large size of the letting was the successful action by the Illinois Congressional Delegation in securing federal funds for the state. Subsequent quick action by the legislature in approving a supplemental appropriation for the department provided the authorization needed to use the newly-available federal highway funds.

The size of the letting also was expanded because the department is soliciting bids on a contingency basis for some work that would require state funds.

Kramer said, "The extensive list of improvements that will be undertaken represents our effort to use hard-won federal highway dollars to get needed projects underway as quickly as possible and to aid the state's economy by creating jobs in the hard-hit construction industry."

We have now done everything possible to bolster the highway repair program short of increasing the state's 14-year-old gas tax and license plate fee structure."

"I want to strongly emphasize that the June letting of highway projects virtually uses up the state's allocation for projects that can be funded with 100 percent federal money. Beyond June, we will need additional state revenues to match the federal highway funds available to Illinois and to continue improvements on highways that are not eligible for federal aid. House Bill 1305, currently being considered by the state Senate, would provide the needed funds."

Included in the $145 million total, is more than $20 million in projects that we are soliciting bids for that will require new state financing continued in H.B. 1305.

By soliciting bids on these needed improvements now, we can advance work by one full construction season. If those projects can be placed under construction in the next 45 days, virtually all of them can be completed this construction season."

Projects financed with 100 percent federal funds are the result of the state taking advantage of a provision in the federal law which allows it to defer the required matching share for federal highway funds. The deferred state share for financing the projects must be paid back by Sept. 30, 1984, or an equivalent amount will be deducted from the state's future apportionments of federal highway funds.

Projects that the department is soliciting bids for on June 28 include:

—Resurfacing 1.61 miles of Madison Avenue from Second Street in Madison to 20th Street in Granite City.

—Maintenance of motorist aid call box system along I-55, 70-270 in Madison and St. Clair Counties (estimated cost $47,000).

—A bridge on Wanda Road over the Cahokia Diversion Channel, 6 of a mile north of Poag (estimated cost $600,000).

—Install pipe culvert and flap gates at the intersection of Route 203 and I-55-70, near the north limits of East St. Louis, and at the intersection of Route 157 and St. Clair Avenue in East St. Clair.

—Interstate 70. Work including 5.17 miles of resurfacing from Route 157 to U.S. 40, east of Collinsville (estimated cost $1,900,000).

—Interstate 70. Work including 1.18 miles of resurfacing three locations north of Highland (estimated cost $225,000).

—Interstate 255. Work including 1.01 miles of grading and sand drains from near the Madison-St. Clair County Line, north to U.S. Business 40, near the west limits of Collinsville (estimated cost $875,000).

Projects that are contingent on future state funding include:

(By soliciting bids now, these projects can be placed under construction in the next 45 days and virtually all of them can be completed this construction season.)

Installation of electronically-controlled security gates at the Civic Memorial Airport in East Alton.

SIUE and Foundation reach accord

A master contract between Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the SIUE Foundation was approved last week by the SIUE Board of Trustees. The contract will be effective for one year beginning June 29 and may be renewed for subsequent one-year terms.

University officers explained that Legislative Audit Commission guidelines adopted in 1982 require that arrangements between a university and a foundation or other organization that acts for the benefit of the university must be set forth in a written contract.

Others said the contract between SIUE and the SIUE Foundation satisfies the requirements of the commission. The provisions of the contract with respect to purpose, services, and remuneration for services are based on the existing relationship between the university and the foundation.

ARREST-YOUTHS IN CAR MINUS LIGHTS

Enroute to a call in the 1600 block of Olive Street this week, an officer noticed two youths in an auto without headlights pull away from the curb at Maple Street and Niedringhaus Avenue.

The vehicle continued to travel without lights and, as it proceeded north on Maple, the officer activated the squad car's red lights.

A second police vehicle coming south on Maple blocked the auto's route at St. Louis Street and the occupants, 14 and 15 years old, were arrested on curfew violations.

The 15-year-old youth also was charged with not having a valid driver's license. Both were released later to their respective parents.

Nancy Jones, David Sheikh named teens of the month

Nancy Ann Jones and David Ahmed Sheikh have been named Teenager of the Month for May by the Elks Lodge 1126.

Miss Jones is the daughter of Vera Jones, 3116 Ash Ave. She graduated recently from Granite City High School South.

Sheikh is the son of Zaki and Colleen Sheikh of 2552 Westmoreland Dr. and a June graduate of Granite City High School North.

Miss Jones was active in the National Honor Society, serving as treasurer, and South Leaders Athletic Club, serving as vice president in her junior year, and president her senior year.

She was a member of the basketball, tennis and cross-country teams and served as captain of the Granite City Soccer Club.

Scholastically, she had a grade average of 5.2. Her hobbies include playing the piano and softball. She plans to attend Princeton University to study computer science.

Sheikh was active in the National Honor Society, Science Club, Quill and Scroll, and the North Star staff. He was a member of the varsity soccer and baseball teams. He had a grade point average of 4.561. His hobbies include soccer, baseball, coaching youth soccer teams, bowling, rare record collecting, radio controlled aircraft building, and table tennis.

Sheikh plans to attend Washington University in St. Louis to study pre-med.

These teenagers, along with all previous teenagers of the month, were honored at a banquet in their honor at the Elks Lodge on June 11.

ENDS BASIC TRAINING

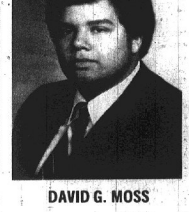

Artie Private Robert J. Portell, son of William Paul and Julia Marie Portell, 2335 Pontoon Road, has graduated from basic training at Ft. Jackson, S.C., with medals as a rifle sharp shooter and grenade expert.

He now is assigned to Ft. Knox, Ky., as a tank systems mechanic. Portell graduated in 1982 from Granite City High School North and attended Belleville Area College. He is married to the former Miss Roxanne Aleksandrian of Granite City.

Each new recipient may receive up to three additional years of support if the record of excellence continues. Each year's new award may total as much as $5,000.

DAVID G. MOSS

Sigma company award to Moss

Announcement was made last week of the awarding of the second annual Dan Brodia Sigma-Aldrich Scholarship jointly to Kagan De Haas, son of Mr. Elizabeth De Haas of Haifa, Israel, and David Grant Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Moss of Granite City.

Moss has just graduated with honors from Granite City High School South. He plans to enter Washington University this fall as a chemical engineering major.

His father joined Sigma Chemical Co. in 1981 and is a supervisor in the data processing department.

The scholarship honors Dan Brodia, who died in October 1981. It was established by the company and friends of Mr. Brodia. His career began with Midwest Consultants, Inc. in 1937 following graduation from Washington U., and he established Sigma Chemical as a subsidiary of Midwest in 1946 and succeeded in providing an increasing number of high-purity research biochemicals and diagnostic reagents for clinical use. Today, Sigma's catalog lists 15,000 items.

Firing due to 'lug'?

"lug" from each worker to bolster his 1984 re-election campaign treasury.

Efforts were made to collect the first $250 from her, with another $500 to be paid later, Yvette said; she declined to contribute.

The "whistle was blown" about the "lug" letter by another employee of Weber's office, but Yvette mistakenly was assumed to have been responsible, she said.

The text of the letter to her was on her desk and an Edwardsville news reporter picked it up and photocopied it, she said. A prominently featured article followed.

Miss Manogian said she worked efficiently while an employee of the state's attorney and that no valid basis—in her opinion—existed for her to be discharged.

The prosecutor takes the position that she was insubordinate, including a verbal confrontation in front of other staff members.

One of the disputes took place inside Weber's office, with Marvin Darling, herself and Weber present, Miss Manogian asserted. Darling later left the staff, and supposed statements by him make up much of the Ceto letters to Madison County Board members about Weber.

The state's attorney has sought actively to oust Barton. An associate judge this spring threw out the indictments of Barton, citing what he described as prosecutorial errors; Weber is appealing the ruling.

Barton believes that residents of the rural eastern area of Madison County decided in the 1970s to seek his ouster—after Barton acted to end a situation in which typical central and western county residents "were paying ten times as much" property taxes as easterners while the easterners were "receiving 90 percent of the county's services."

Weber won the state's attorney's office by a narrow margin in the presidential election year of 1980, aided by strong backing in the eastern portion of the county. Ever since, he has been urging that Barton quit, be fired or be put on trial.

Miss Manogian's case has no direct bearing on that controversy, but she thinks Weber may have found her "guilty by association" from her lunchtime association with a Barton employee, her sister.

The Manogians and Barton reside in Granite City. Weber lives in Marine.

Debate over Jobs Bill

would mostly gain from the appropriations, he contended.

The majority of approved projects involve street improvements and funds for community buildings like senior citizens centers and fire protection facilities.

One of the main objections from Brombolich was that funds were requested by Collinsville for completion of projects. Because the requests were denied, the city will not be able to continue these improvements.

Hagauer, however, noted that citizens were on the committee and the Collinsville representative said that the Quatto Hill project was more important than the three denied requests, which included improvements on California Avenue and Black Jack Road and repair of the Woodland Park Bridge.

Dalton defended the letter from Brombolich. "The letter is not critical of Granite City for receiving the $300,000. It's saying, if we have wealth let's spread it around."

In support of the program, Hagauer said, "if ever there's been a grant program that's been successful, community development has been. It was possible that we (the county) would get greedy. But we haven't done that."

But Hagauer did add that some communities receiving funds in previous years had not started the approved projects.

Vivod and Alan Dunstan of Troy were the only board members voting against the appropriations.

Venice Township will receive funds for Benjamin Addition improvements and Eagle Park surface drainage. Venice also is to get money for Lee Park improvements. Madison will receive funds for street improvements and for the industrial park.

Nameoki Township and Pontoon Beach were denied their requests for funds.

Collinsville filed applications for four projects, but only the township will receive funds totaling $30,000 for street improvements at Quatto Hill. Troy officials had eight requests, but received nothing.

The Quad-City area also will receive the following: Madison for Highland-McCambridge street improvements, $47,500; Madison Industrial Park, $50,000; Venice Lee Park improvement, $30,787; Venice Township Benjamin addition street improvements, $30,000; and Venice Township-Eagle Park surface drainage, $5,000.

A request from Madison for funds to improve surface drainage in West Madison was denied and two applications from Venice for sidewalk improvements and street improvements were denied.

Requests from Nameoki Township for street improvements at Miracle Manor-Bellemeore were denied, as were requests for Nameoki Gardens street improvements. The township filed six requests, four for Miracle Manor and two for Nameoki Gardens.

A request for funds to build a senior citizens' center in Pontoon Beach likewise was denied.

Maryville, Collinsville, Glen Carbon and Troy, and the townships of Jarvis, Edwardsville and Pin Oak received nothing.

Mayor Brombolich last week threatened to withdraw Collinsville from the Madison County CD program and instead, enter the St. Clair County program. Some residents of the city live in St. Clair County.

ALLEGED TWO MEN TAKE CIGARETTES

A description of two men who allegedly walked out of Eddie's Lounge and Liquor Store, 2900 Nameoki Road, with several packs of cigarettes, was given officers at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Richard C. Hinkle, 28, of Belleville, and Alan Perreira, 29, of Edwardsville, were located near the lounge and were arrested. Both were charged with misdemeanor theft. Five packs of cigarettes were recovered, reports said.

No cheese for Nameoki, other distributions set

Nameoki Township will no longer be distributing government surplus butter and cheese, unless the amount coming to the community increases, Supervisor Harry Briggs said Wednesday.

Briggs' remarks came after the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) made its monthly announcement of local cheese and butter allotments for low-income county residents.

The countywide EOC distribution will be 37,000 pounds or about the same amount received last month, but less than the larger amount the county received in March.

Chouteau and Venice townships plan to give out cheese on Friday and the local Madison EOC office will give out cheese Monday. Chouteau also has a limited supply of butter.

"There's just not enough to go around," Briggs explained in calling a halt to the distribution in his township.

The supervisor said the 300 boxes allocated for Nameoki residents last month was not adequate to supply the long lines that formed at the township office and at State Park Community Center. Some senior citizens waited in line for up to three hours, only to find the supply exhausted before they received a share of the surplus federal goods, according to Briggs. "It only makes people mad," Briggs commented. "And I don't like to see the older ladies stand in line."

He requested the EOC distribution coordinator for the local townships to bypass Nameoki Township this month and double its supply next month in order for the township to have enough cheese for all those in line, but his suggestion was not accepted, Briggs said.

It was told to expect lower cheese allotments for the next two months, so he decided to discontinue, at least temporarily, the cheese program in Nameoki. Unless cheese allocations increase, this will be the end of the program for that township, Briggs said.

Granite City Township is the only other non-participating township in the area.

Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks has announced cheese and butter will be distributed for his township residents only beginning at 9 a.m. Friday at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

There will be 1,770 pounds of cheese and 135 pounds of butter given out on a first-come, first-served basis. The products will be distributed with the assistance of the Chouteau senior citizens.

Venice Township will begin distributing 1,800 pounds of cheese at 9 a.m. Friday at the Venice Township Office, 1505 Fifth Street, Venice. Proof of residency in Venice Township will be required.

The Madison EOC office will be distributing about 1,800 pounds of cheese beginning at 9 a.m. Monday at the Dunbar Johnson Community Service Center, Third and Jackson streets. That cheese will be given only to Madison, Venice and Eagle Park residents.

Those receiving cheese at the service center should either have a qualifying card on file with the EOC office or should bring proof of their income and residency with them on Monday.

According to a Salvation Army spokesman, the organization did not receive cheese in May and does not expect to receive cheese during June.

12-year sentence from home invasion

Associate Judge Edward Ferguson this month sentenced Tyrone Lee Lunsford, 19, Alton, to 12 years in prison for a home invasion in Madison court records show. The charge was filed Oct. 12, 1982.

Ferguson dismissed a related aggravated battery allegation.

SEMC Auxiliary awards scholarships to medical students

The St. Elizabeth Medical Center Auxiliary has awarded 26 scholarships to students in medical-related fields. It was recently announced.

In its 23rd year, the auxiliary awards scholarships to students enrolled in full-time programs of the allied health fields such as dietetics, inhalation therapy, medical record library science, medical technology, nursing, occupational and physical therapy, medicine, dentistry, pharmacology, and x-ray technology.

First-year students and past award winners in good academic standing are given preference. This year, 12 renewal applicants received scholarships and 14 new applicants were awarded scholarships.

Assistance is given on a one-year renewable basis, contingent on academic excellence and financial need. A total of $9,100 was given this year, with $350 to each recipient.

The award may be applied only toward tuition, fees, room, books or uniforms. Application forms will be available again Jan. 1, 1984, and should be completed and returned by April 1. Applications may be obtained at the SEMC Coffee Shop. Auxiliary president is Bea Oonk and committee members are Sarah Metcalf and Joyce Toussaint.

Hey, boss, a little snooze can increase productivity

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Research has found that employees who take a little "snooze" at work are more productive than their wide-awake counterparts.

Who exactly conducted the research is unclear, but it was reported in Industry Week and picked up by a newspaper syndicate. I'm all for the people who made the finding and think they should receive a substantial grant to continue such research.

Being one who enjoys a little — or long — snooze just about any time, I can fully appreciate the merits of the finding. As a "marathon sleeper" (in college my roommates often had to make certain I was still breathing after 15-hour stretches of sleep), I can attest to the theory that nappers have increased productivity.

What's more, they are more alert than those who endure the entire day without a few winks.

At the Press-Record, we often joke about it being "nap time," but not in front of the boss.

When a small article appeared in a newspaper about the finding that nappers are not ripping off their company, but actually are more productive, it was read in a staff meeting and drew some interesting comments, not exactly positive, but interesting.

Of course, our beloved editor did not take too kindly to the concept. He did give permission for catnaps during lunch hour.

However, the article referred to lunchtime, but to the regular course of the work day. And, it concluded that those who benefit most from a snooze in the office are managers and executives. We have a few manager-editor types around here and they generally don't snooze on the job — unless they do so with their eyes open, which is always a possibility.

A couple of lowly reporter types made the suggestion that perhaps the bosses should catch a few winks, making them more productive and agreeable upon awakening. Just 15 minutes is all it would take.

In all seriousness, our attempt was to improve productivity. It can become hectic here with a small staff producing so many stories, headlines, photographs and layouts. And, the folks who put the newspaper together might benefit from a few winks between typesetting and laying out the pages. They do come to work awfully early.

The fact that each facet of the newspaper — newsroom, advertising, shop, office personnel — regularly accuse the other facets of snoozing is beside the point.

Those accusations are intended to indicate that problems are someone else's fault — someone "sleeping on the job."

Such statements occurred before the research findings were released. Now, however, we are enlightened and know that the problem is not the snoozers, it's the non-snoozers.

So, snoozers unite! You are an asset to your companies. You are productive and vital. But just remember to time your snoozing so as not to miss crucial moments like coffee breaks and the issuing of paychecks.

And managers and executives, remember that you will benefit most from catching a few winks in the middle of the day.

With that in mind, someone wake me in 15 minutes. ZZZZZZZZZZZZ...

Openings available for Girl Scout camp

There is still time to register for various types of resident camp this summer. River Bluffs Girl Scout Council announces that it has openings for 5th-12th grade girls at its 960-acre site, with two lakes, rocky bluffs and towering forests in Missouri.

At the "Greenhorn" unit, open to 5th-8th graders, girls will be introduced to the world of horses. While working extensively with horses, girls may also continue to enjoy cook outs and crafts, swimming canoeing and hiking. There are two possible weeks available, June 25-July 1 or July 17-23. The fee for this 7-day camp is $105.

Open to 5th-9th graders is a 13-day camp referred to as "Butterfly Bonanza." Between June 25-July 7, girls are provided with the basic camp rituals of swimming, canoeing, horseback riding, backpacking, cooking out and making crafts. There is a $160 fee for this 2-week camp, the council announces.

Between July 1-7, 6th-10th graders are invited to participate in an intermediate horseback riding unit. Referred to as "Cowpoke," girls will ride the trails, learn new skills and work on the horseback rider badge, in addition to the usual camp activities offered. A fee of $105 is required for this 7-day camp.

Experienced horseback riders between 8th-12th grade may attend the "Blazing Saddles" residential unit between July 31-Aug. 6.

This is for experienced riders who may take overnights on the trail, stage a rodeo or horse show. Fee for this camp is $105.

Finally, for 9th-12th graders who have considerable horseback experience, the "Wrangler Aide" camp is open between July 31-Aug. 6. In addition to improving personal riding skills, girls enrolled in this camp will be involved in teaching younger children the essentials of horseback riding. A fee of $105 is required for this camp.

Persons interested in any of these camps may call the Girl Scout Service Center at any of these numbers: 692-0692, 254-5863, 345-1806, 692-5404 or 452-6882, a council member added.

TWO GRADUATE WITH HIGH HONORS

The University of Missouri-Rolla recognizes scholarship of those students earning bachelor's degrees by placing the designation "summa cum laude," "magna cum laude," or "cum laude" on the student's diploma.

The highest honor, summa cum laude is awarded to students who have earned an average (GPA) of 3.8 or above — 4.0 is perfect — for all courses completed toward the degree. Magna cum laude is the designation for a GPA of 3.5 to 3.79, and cum laude indicates a GPA of 3.2 to 3.49.

Honor students receiving degrees with these special designations at UMR's 1983 Annual Commencement included Gerald A. Griffith, 2824 Grand Ave., graduated summa cum laude with a bachelor of science in life sciences, and Jeffrey A. Vaughn, 1526 Cottage Ave., graduated magna cum laude with bachelor of science in chemical engineering.

MARINE PROMOTED AFTER TRAINING

Marine Private First Class David A. Davis, son of David L. and Joyce M. Davis, 2828 Revers Route, has been meritoriously promoted to his present rank upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

He received the early promotion for his superior performance during all phases of the 11-week training cycle, which emphasized physical conditioning, self-discipline and teamwork.

How to save money on your grocery bills

Here are some important shopping tips

- 1—Check specials in food store advertisements.
- 2—Get to know the butcher and produce manager.
- 3—Find out when deliveries of perishables are made and shop on those days. Fresher foods last longer and consequently, you'll waste less.
- 4—Learn to estimate accurately the amounts of food needed. Keep a record of the amount of food you throw away in a week. It may alert you to ways you can reduce waste.
- 5—For economy and variety, use eggs, dry beans, and peanut butter in place of meat some of the time. These foods provide protein and most other nutrients that meat supplies.
- 6—Use nonfat dry milk, which is less expensive than fluid milk, at least part of the time in cooking and as a beverage.
- 7—By law, economy sizes of non-food items must save you at least 5% over other sizes of the same brand.
- 8—Try to shop as seldom as possible, preferably once a week.
- 9—Always shop with a well thought out shopping list. Try to base your list of foods on your menu for the week.
- 10—Take advantage of the special coupon offers going on at First Granite City Savings in conjunction with your local Schnuck's grocer.

MAN, 18, CHARGED IN AUTO BURGLARY
Jeff S. Thompson, 18, of 1919 Edwardsville Road was transferred last week to the Madison County jail in Edwardsville following an appearance in the Granite City court on a charge of auto burglary. At 10:15 p.m. June 6, he and two young boys were taken into custody in the 2000 block of 14th Street near the parked vehicle of John Werner, 2254 Cleveland Blvd.

The auto had a broken window, and a radio inside had been loosened. Bond for Thompson was set at $4,000 cash and a transfer order was issued by the court.

FIRE IN PARK

About one-third of a fire-glass sliding board at Worthen Park playground area had burned away when another fire responded there this week after a call from an area resident reporting the fire. Several pre-teenage youngsters were around the equipment prior to the blaze being noticed, a report said.

Urge letters for Interstate

By JUDY TAPLIN

Show support for construction of Interstate 255, an area labor leader is urging communities and organizations. Dean Turner, secretary-treasurer of the Southwestern Illinois Building Trades Council, says he is concerned that one group's opposition to the highway may convince a federal judge that no one wants it.

Turner is asking area groups to pass resolutions of support, with the resolutions to be sent to Illinois Gov. James Thompson and Secretary of Transportation John Kramer.

Turner spoke at a meeting last week at the Electrical Workers Hall in Collinsville. At issue is a proposed 5.5-mile stretch of I-255 between Collinsville and Glen Carbon.

Fourteen individuals and a protest group called SABER (Save American Bottoms Essential Resources) have filed a federal lawsuit seeking to stop the state from acquiring land and constructing the highway.

But Turner said he is convinced that far more people, including those in local labor unions, want to see the highway built.

"Very selfishly, from our standpoint, we are looking at jobs. Unemployment is currently running between 20 and 30 percent and I-255 promises hundreds of jobs," he said.

"An awful lot is at stake in the Metro East area," Turner told the gathering there will be no hope for construction of proposed Route 413 to tie in northern Madison County if the 5.5 miles of I-255 are not built.

Bill McGhee, business manager for Local 553 of the Plumbers Union, said the judge hearing the lawsuit needs to be shown that more people are for the project than against.

If the judge grants even a temporary injunction, McGhee said, it could delay the highway project by 10 years.

Turner said he understood that the lawsuit is currently on the desk of U.S. District Judge James Foreman, thus making immediate action by I-255 supporters urgent.

He said he believed the judge's ruling would be based on whether the highway is necessary and on whether people want it.

SABER opposes construction of the stretch of I-255 because of the prime farmland it would take and because it would displace a number of homeowners.

The protest group also claims it would be more practical to improve and widen existing roads, including Illinois 157, 159 and 111.

The group disputes claims that the Interstate's construction would put a substantial number of people to work. More people would have jobs if the existing highways were improved, it contends.

It appears that the controversial 5.5-mile section could be on "hold" for at least a year even if the judge denies temporary or permanent injunctions. This is because he has set the case for sometime in 1984, according to Harry Sterling, attorney for SABER.

Until the suit is resolved, Sterling told a reporter, the Illinois Department of Transportation has indicated it will take no steps to proceed with the project.

"Let's say there is a cloud over it until 1984," is how Sterling describes the situation.

The suit was filed in May. The state, which was to answer by Thursday, instead asked on that day for a 30-day extension, Sterling said.

At the IBEW Hall, area officials assured Turner their groups would approve resolutions supporting the project. Some indicated they had already done so.

Ken Evers, mayor of Edwardsville, said his council endorsed I-255 earlier last week. Madison County and Glen Carbon have also given their blessings, as has the Southwestern Council of Mayors.

Dr. Robert Koeppke of SIUE, speaking not for the university but as a citizen, said both the proposed Interstate and the alternate of improving existing roads had some drawbacks, and not everyone was going to be happy no matter what course was taken.

He supported I-255 as having more positive aspects.

Ferd Goewert, president of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, said his group would vote its support in a meeting the next day. He said the Belleville Economic Development Corporation also would vote on the resolution.

Walter Dimmic, of Operating Engineers Local 520, told the gathering he and other residents living along Illinois 157 want I-255, not more traffic on 157.

He said he and others were in the process of giving out petitions of support for the Interstate.

No one from the state was present at Thursday's meeting, Turner said that was because of the lawsuit.

Elmer Weber, vice president of Local 529 of the Operating Engineers, helped organize the meeting.

Collinsville was represented at the meeting by administrative assistant Richard Mark. Although no public statement of Collinsville's support for the Interstate was made, Mark carried with him a letter from Mayor Gene Brannolich which indicated that support.

The letter, written to state Sen. Frank Watson in April, said, "We feel our area has the most to gain by the highway construction, and by far the most to lose by its deletion."

GC classes on Aug. 23 to June 1

Classes starting after Labor Day may become a reality in 1984. But the 1983 fall semester will begin Aug. 23 for Granite City students, after principals meet Aug. 19 and faculty members report Aug. 22.

Classes are to end June 1, 1984, or earlier if there are no school closings during the year.

Several board members said last week that they believe most Granite City students would prefer September to August as the starting date of the yearly school term.

But with the Madison and Venice school districts and the Quad-City special education region all geared to start classes in the week of Aug. 23, it is now too late to alter Granite City's 1983-84 schedule, the board concluded.

Supt. B.J. Davis said, "The reasons for the present starting and ending dates go back a number of years, including the need for our students to place themselves on the job market as soon as possible. They are competing with other school districts which have corresponding dismissal dates."

Other reasons pertained to the problems students were encountering if they wished to attend college during the summer, in leaving high school and entering college. It was becoming difficult to prepare their transcripts and get them to the colleges by the time the summer session began.

"The third major reason for beginning school earlier than Labor Day was due to our own summer school program, since it would delay our starting and ending of summer school. This also posed problems for parents."

"In a discussion with principals at the last principals' meeting, they pointed out that they had as much or more difficulty when we had the later starting date—because of parents withdrawing their children for summer vacation—as they have with the students entering after Labor Day."

"I believe these are all valid points and I recommend that the tentatively adopted calendar be approved."

The Federation of Teachers requested permission to address the board in regard to the calendar, but did not.

Board Member Robert Maxwell said he would have preferred a Sept. 7 start for pupils or perhaps a week earlier, rather than two weeks earlier.

Davis submitted three calendars, including Sept. 7, June 8 and Sept. 7-June 13 proposals which he did not recommend.

Worthen said he thinks many of the reasons for an early start no longer apply and that the public seems strongly in favor of beginning fall attendance the day after Labor Day.

Treasurer Dewey Melton said he has received an opposite reaction. Most who talked to him said their children were ready to resume classes in the fourth week of August, he related.

Worthen said he opposed the '83-84 calendar but would vote for it because a change at this time of the year might create problems. The approval was by 6-0, with Board Member Thomas Miosky arriving later in the meeting.

The final calendar consists of 182 attendance days, two institute days Aug. 22 and March 23 and two parent-teacher conference days, Nov. 3 and March 22.

The two semesters for attendance are Aug. 23-Jan. 13 and Jan. 16-June 1.

Holidays will be Labor Day Sept. 5, Columbus Day Oct. 10, Veterans' Day Nov. 11, Thanksgiving Day Nov. 24 (and no classes Nov. 25), Lincoln's birthday Feb. 13, Good Friday April 20, 1984 (plus no classes April 16 through 19), and Memorial Day May 29, 1984.

The Christmas-New Year holiday will begin after classes on Dec. 22, attendance resuming Jan. 3.

DRIVERS' LICENSES ARE SUSPENDED

Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced the revocation and suspension of two Quad-City area drivers' licenses.

The license of Elton W. Oden, 27, of 2917 Indian St., was revoked for a conviction on driving under the influence of alcohol and the license of Randall D. Parker, 27, of 532 Chouteau Ave., was suspended for implied consent (refusal to take a breath test).

The Granite City Park District will begin accepting reservations at 9 a.m. Friday for its annual trip to Nashville, Tenn., July 22 to 24. Early reservations are advised. Costs vary from $78 to $140. Those interested in further information should call 877-3059.

Tri-City Shrine Club members will be stationed at area banks and businesses this Friday and Saturday to collect for the Jimmy Durrant Crippled Children's Fund and the Max Baer Heart Fund drives.

Lotto rises; caution on alteration

The June 11, Illinois State Lottery lotto numbers failed to produce a grand prize winner, but boosted the grand prize for a single winner this Saturday night to a guaranteed $1.75 million.

Lottery rules stipulate that if more than one player wins the grand prize they will share the actual grand prize pool.

Three people matched five of the six winning numbers and the alternate, and the alternate grand prize winners each will collect a $27,639 share of the alternate grand prize pool.

Lottery Supt. Michael J. Jones explained that the alternate grand prize is awarded only when there is no grand prize winner. Alternate grand prize winners share a prize pool that is 20 percent of that week's actual grand prize pool.

A total of 73 players matched five of six winning numbers for a second prize of $2,319 each. The third prize pool will be shared by 4,225 players, each winning $39.

Immediately after each week's selection, the lottery's computers indicate how many players win in each category and how much they win. They cannot, however, indicate who the winners are since the information is not recorded when a player buys a lottery ticket.

Jones said all of this week's winners should take their lotto tickets to their agents for validation and for filing claims.

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan on Monday announced the indictment and arrest of ten individuals charged with presenting altered state lottery tickets to lottery claim centers in order to obtain cash prizes.

Jones commenting on the attorney general's announcement, said the lottery would continue to rely on the suspected alteration of tickets to the Investigative Service Division of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

If the investigation indicates that questionable tickets were altered, he said, the lottery would cooperate fully with the attorney general's office toward the arrest and prosecution of the individuals involved.

Jones said all lottery tickets, including those for instant games as well as the online games — daily game, pick 4 and lotto — have built-in safeguards which make successful alteration of the tickets virtually impossible. Jones pointed out the following procedures designed to assure that only legitimate winners are paid their prizes:

1. The immediate payment by an agent of any lottery prize of $25 or more must be authorized by a lottery official in Springfield. When a winning ticket is presented to an agent, the ticket is checked by a lottery official in Springfield. When a winning ticket is presented to an agent, the ticket is checked by a lottery official in Springfield.

2. An instant computer check indicates whether or not the ticket is indeed a winner. Any ticket failing the authorization test — or any ticket with a prize of $200 or more — must be submitted to the lottery along with a claim form.

3. A reconstruction of any ticket suspected as having been altered is requested by the lottery from the ticket's supplier. The reconstruction data provides every number and symbol that should be on a specific ticket.

4. If the information from the ticket supplier indicates the ticket may have been altered, lottery officials may decide to send the actual ticket, the reconstruction data and the claim to the Department of Revenue.

The investigations division normally sends the ticket itself to the Bureau of Scientific Services of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement.

But Jones feels strongly that attempts to defraud should be prosecuted, he added.

He pointed out that instant lottery tickets, the ones that the ten individuals indicted and arrested are charged with altering, are physically designed to make successful alteration "practically impossible," Jones said that most alterations are easy to detect visually or scientifically.

Jones warned there have been occasions in which otherwise innocent people have bought altered lottery tickets from others. One recent case involved a man who paid $6,000 for a ticket that appeared to be a $100,000 winner; the ticket had been altered.

Not only did the claimant not win the $100,000 prize, but he had also lost $6,000. Jones advised that anyone approached with lottery tickets for sale should be wary of the authenticity of the tickets and proceed with caution.

File resisting charge, warrants

After allegedly seeing a motorist driving the wrong way on a one-way street and pulling into a driveway in the 2500 block of Edison Avenue, turning off the car lights last week, an officer confronted the driver, who gave the name "Jackson" when questioned and said he had lost his driver's license.

Officer L. Johnson, 33, of 2838 Denver Ave., the driver, then produced an identification card and was found to have two accounts of an outstanding against him, alleging failure to pay the fine on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and battery.

Upon being arrested, Johnson allegedly declined to get into the squad car, saying that he wanted to finish smoking a cigarette, and refused to place his hands on the vehicle.

He allegedly pulled away from Patrolman Jim Reader and pushed the officer. A second officer arrived at the scene, and Johnson was wrestled to the ground, reports said.

A second warning shot was fired into the ground and two men being chased ran around a camping trailer in a yard, stumbling on rocks and fell to the ground near a chainlink fence, reports said.

The third person, a girl, fled the scene. She was interviewed Monday by police and released to her parents, pending further action.

Arrested were Bryan A. Crouch, 17, of 2908 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Curtis R. Lewis, 21, of 2825 Lincoln Ave. Both men were barefoot and had sustained multiple scratches in the chase, it was noted.

Biggs, Crouch and Lewis were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Lewis and Crouch also were charged with misdemeanor theft and criminal trespass to property.

Biggs was taken into custody. Another officer was approaching the house from Palmer Avenue and saw three persons run, although warned to halt. Pursuit was impeded by fences and the threesome ran between houses and then into the street. Again, the officer shouted for them to halt and this time fired a warning shot into the air, but the trio continued running.

A second warning shot was fired into the ground and two men being chased ran around a camping trailer in a yard, stumbling on rocks and fell to the ground near a chainlink fence, reports said.

The third person, a girl, fled the scene. She was interviewed Monday by police and released to her parents, pending further action.

Arrested were Bryan A. Crouch, 17, of 2908 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Curtis R. Lewis, 21, of 2825 Lincoln Ave. Both men were barefoot and had sustained multiple scratches in the chase, it was noted.

Biggs, Crouch and Lewis were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Lewis and Crouch also were charged with misdemeanor theft and criminal trespass to property.

Biggs was taken into custody. Another officer was approaching the house from Palmer Avenue and saw three persons run, although warned to halt. Pursuit was impeded by fences and the threesome ran between houses and then into the street. Again, the officer shouted for them to halt and this time fired a warning shot into the air, but the trio continued running.

Foot pursuit ends in arrests, charges

Three men were charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and other charges in an episode occurring early Monday in the 2900 block of East 25th Street, involving warning shots being fired by an officer.

Police were called to an address after a resident reported being awakened by voices outside and seeing three men walking in his driveway toward the garage.

He said a 19-inch color television was missing from a family room where a door was found unlocked. A teenage daughter also was not at home, he told police.

An officer, walking through yards at the rear of the dwelling located Kenneth R. Biggs, 22, of 3404 Kirkpatrick Homes, near the garage. Biggs was taken into custody.

Another officer was approaching the house from Palmer Avenue and saw three persons run, although warned to halt. Rose Marie Ezell, 125 Arlington Drive, owner-operator of a local trucking company, was installed as president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at the annual installation banquet at Rusty's Restaurant in Edwardsville.

More than 60 members and guests attended the impressive ceremonies and greeted the newly president and her officer corps at a reception.

Serving as installing officer was Sylvia Wright, finance chairman for the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Shardol Yount, retiring president, was in charge of the dinner session. Musical entertainment was furnished by the Sweet Adelines.

Among several special guests introduced were members of Mrs. Ezell's family, Miss Annellen Smith, immediate past state BPW president, Marilyn Bromaghin, District 14 director, and representatives of other District 14 clubs.

Other officers installed for the 1983-84 club year were: Barbara Hodge, president-elect; Carolyn Smith, first vice-president; Ann Graklanoff, second vice-president; Dorothy Hill, treasurer; Linda Fussell, recording secretary; and Pat Anderson, corresponding secretary.

Serving as escorts were LaVelle Stephens, Dolores Allen, Helene Bischoff, Emylee Alford, Pauline Weir, Lil Marzul, Rosalie Stern, Ollie Derr, Sylvia Wright and Miss Smith. All are past presidents of the Granite City BPW Club.

Lois Wetton, also a past president, was in charge of the receiving line, and the pledge to the flag was led by Hazel Rollins.

In her acceptance speech, Mrs. Ezell promised club members, "an interesting and fulfilling year," and urged those present to continue to support the BPW's objectives.

She was presented a bouquet of roses by her daughter, Wendy, and the gavel of office by Mrs. Wright.

The new president also received a special president's pin, which has been traditionally passed on to each new president since the club was founded 60 years ago.

An active member of the Granite City club for several years, Mrs. Ezell previously has served the group as president-elect, first vice-president and as chairman of several standing committees.

She owns and operates the Lady Line Trucking Co., with offices at Route 203 and Interstate 70, south of Madison.

Pastor marks 30 years

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

"Reflection on Thirty Years in the Gospel Ministry" will be the theme marking the ordination anniversary of the Rev. Don F. Pierson this Sunday at the Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

Services will begin at 10:45 a.m. Sunday in the church, located at 1700 Pontoon Road.

Pastor Pierson graduated from Pittsburgh Seminary, the oldest Presbyterian seminary in the United States.

The seminary was founded in 1794 to provide pastors and leaders for the church in the Post-Revolutionary era.

Rev. Pierson said. Nearly 400 men and women currently are studying in the seminary's degree programs.

After graduation, the local minister served for five years at a church in suburban Pittsburgh before returning to his native Illinois.

He spent six years at churches in Southern Illinois and then accepted a pastorate in Princeton, near Davenport, Iowa, where Rev. and Mrs. Pierson remained for 10 years.

While in Iowa, Rev. Pierson was active with the Community Development Corporation, Lion's Club and the Riverside Scenic Bike Trail Committee. He also became active engaged in school bond issues, as well as publishing a weekly community news sheet.

In addition to his wide-ranging community involvement, Pastor Pierson was active in the programs of local, Quad-Cities and Scott County Ministerial associations.

He has served on several Presbyterian committees, including the chairmanship of the nominating committee, and was a commissioner to the General Assembly, the national gathering of the Presbyterian Church on two occasions.

Currently, Rev. Pierson is active in the Granite City Rotary Club, the American Cancer Society and the Citizens Advisory Committee.

He also is a member of the Synod of Mid-America's Nominating Committee.

The Piersons are the parents of three sons: Eric, an attorney in Menominee, Wis.; Neil, a technical writer, for Emerson Electric of St. Louis, and Andrew, a senior at the University of Illinois with a career in veterinary medicine as his goal.

Mrs. Pierson, a 1983 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is chairman of the Presbyterian Peace-Making Task Force. She also is a past president of the Quad-Cities Church Women United.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed the 30 years in the ministry and the 10 years we have served in the Granite City community," Pastor Pierson said this week.

"It has been a time of growing for me personally, as well as for the church," the minister commented.

Grant to Lutheran High School

Metro-East Lutheran High School, Edwardsville, has been awarded a $3,100 grant for the 1983-84 school year from Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL).

The money will be used to obtain computer equipment for students enrolled in a basic computer course, to subsidize tuition and related expenses for seven teachers seeking advanced degrees, and to produce promotional materials for fund raising.

The grant is part of AAL's Lutheran High School Enrichment Program which will provide more than $400,000 this year to 94 Lutheran high schools in the United States.

The number of Lutheran high schools increased by six this year, continuing a trend that has been evident for several years, according to Sue Mueller, administrator of AAL's high school grants.

"Although this country's student population continues to decline, the number enrolled in Lutheran schools continues to increase," said

Mueller, "which I think is a reflection of the quality of the education available through the Lutheran school network. We're delighted to be able to 'invest' our members' funds in Lutheran high schools across the country to help administrators and faculty provide an even better educational product."

For the last several years, AAL grants to Lutheran high schools most frequently have been used to obtain computers and to increase computer literacy among students and faculty alike. The funds also are used to help teachers seeking advanced degrees and other professional development, to fund development costs for new and expanded educational programs, and constituent relations. Local school officials determine how to use the money.

AAL administrators many educational support programs which this year will provide more than $4.3 million to students and the schools they attend. Other AAL grants provide millions of dollars to Lutheran institutions and other nonprofit organizations, and to provide support for AAL members who conduct volunteer activities through AAL's 5,700 local branches.

AAL is the nation's largest fraternal benefit society providing insurance and fraternal benefits to 1.3 million members. There are approximately 128,000 AAL members living in Illinois.

vacant lots, so township employees did the job.

Some residents, however, have failed to pay bills for the mowing, totaling about $300. Township officials said that some residents are repeat offenders.

Briggs wants to file lawsuits against the owners or place liens against property if they don't pay, he said Monday.

Township attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. said that both actions would work, depending on the situation.

If an owner lives in the area, a lawsuit probably would be best. If the owner does not live in the area, a lien against the property is the best action, Slate said.

Lawsuits would force residents refusing to pay the bills to appear in small claims court. He added that a lien could lead to property being placed on the selling block.

Slate said it would take about 30 days for the legal action to be taken.

Daily steps in to hurl Triplets past Edwardsville

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Good hitting and good fielding have been the strong points for the Tri-City American Legion baseball team this season, but the pitching hasn't been so strong.

Because Tri-City's starting pitching staff consists of only three players, the pitching has fallen apart in the later innings. Wednesday, the Triplets were fortunate enough to have a play on their side and defeated Edwardsville 9-5.

Monday, the Triplets edged Freeburg 7-5 in Mascoutah.

The Triplets usually don't have the services of Daily because he plays third base for the 7-Up Spanky's team. On the rare nights Spanky's is off, Daily plays for the Triplets.

Wednesday, Daily started at third base, but when starting pitcher Jim Burton tired in the fourth inning, Daily took over on the mound and stopped Edwardsville. In three and one-third innings, Daily struck out six batters and gave up one run on four hits.

"Yes, I'd like him to play everyday for us," Tri-City Manager Larry Corey said. "He's probably better off playing at that level (Spanky's), but he would definitely help us."

Daily, a 1982 Granite City South graduate, had pitched only two innings this year prior to Wednesday. He had a few control problems, but most of the time, his fast ball made the strike zone.

While Daily was doing his thing on the mound, the Triplets were the big hits.

The hit that iced the game for the Triplets was John Linhart's grand slam home run in the sixth inning. Linhart's blast sailed high over the right field fence.

To set up Linhart's blast, Brian Levin had a single, and Daren DePew and Daily both walked.

"Linhart got the big hit to make things easier for us, but we got quite a few big hits when we needed them the most," Corey said.

In the four-run first inning, Levin walked and DePew hit a ground rule double. Daily grounded to shortstop Dean Schulmeister, but the shortstop was unable to get Levin at the plate. Instead, he settled for Daily. Linhart, Vince Mitchell and Scott Corey all added RBI singles to give the Triplets a 4-0 lead.

A big turning point of the game was the top of the first inning. Burton gave up a single to Kevin King and walks to Doug Yarnik and Dave Vieth. With the bases loaded, Burton struck out Randy Williams, Brian Pouch and Schulmeister to end the inning.

In the second inning, Tri-City scored when Dave Sheikh walked and scored on DePew's infield ground ball. The Triplets added another run in the fifth. Mitchell reached on an error by first baseman Dave Lange went to third on another error and scored on Scott Corey's sacrifice fly to Pouch.

The game was actually closer than the score showed. King hit a three run homer over the left field fence in the fourth inning prior to Burton's exit. Edwardsville added single runs in the second and sixth inning.

Defense also helped to make a difference in the outcome. Daily walked Yarnik, who later stole second. Dave Vieth hit a hard single to right field, but Linhart's strong throw got to DePew in time to get Yarnik out at the plate.

Levin also made a couple of clutch defensive plays, including starting a seventh inning double play, and Burton picked off Randy Williams at first.

Monday, the Triplets had a 10-4 lead going into the bottom of the seventh inning, but Freeburg scored five runs in that inning to scare the Triplets.

Luck was on Tri-City's side. The Triplets scored three runs in the top of the inning. In all, Tri-City had a 15-hit effort against Freeburg. Sheikh was 3-for-4 with a double, and Linhart and Milt Roe were both 2-for-4 for the Triplets.

The Triplets, 5-3 overall and 4-2 in District 22 play, entertain Belleville at 6 p.m. tonight at Granite City North and travel to Alton for an 8:30 p.m. game at Gordon Moore Park.

GC Jr. Legion downs Troy; record now 7-1

GRANITE CITY — What a difference a year can make to a baseball team. Anyone who questions that fact should have a talk with Kevin Sykes, coach of the Granite City Junior American Legion baseball team.

Last year at this time, Sykes' Junior Legion team was still looking for its first win. This year's edition, however, has turned last year's dismal 0-8 start around to post a 7-1 record so far. That fine start ties them with Duplo for the league lead.

What would turn a team around in just one year? Sykes cites two reasons. "A year more experience and a little better talent," he said. "We've picked up some different guys, but, too, the extra year has matured the kids a little."

Sykes cited the acquisition of two pitchers in particular. Rod Sampson and Jim Fletcher, as part of the reason for the turn around. Fletcher, a right-hander, allowed Troy just five hits Wednesday as he pitched the team to a 9-6 win over Troy at Granite City High School's Varsity Field.

In that game, the local nine jumped out to a 4-1 lead after two innings. Tom Adamits bunted on and then Jim Moulton doubled to left field. Randy Thurman squeezed in Adamits with another bunt and then Bryan Kelly drew a walk to load the bases for John Conkovich.

Conkovich, who's swinging a strong bat for Granite City, doubled to deep left field, scoring Moulton, Thurman and Cook. Granite City's Pat Cathey grounded out to the shortstop to retire the side.

Granite City continued its assault on the basepaths in the third inning, only this time they did so without getting any hits. Tom Mosbey was hit by a pitch while Adamits and Moulton each walked.

Finding itself again with the bases loaded, designated hitter, Cook, scored Adamits with a fielder's choice. Scott Grote walked to bring in Mosbey and then Conkovich scored Moulton when Troy's left fielder, Brad Holloway, lost the ball in the sun.

Sitting on a comfortable 7-1 lead after three complete innings, Granite City seemed content with its advantage until the fifth inning when Troy cut its lead to two, 7-5.

In the bottom half of the fifth, Granite City managed one run as Grote picked up a two-out single to center field, stole second and then scored on Conkovich's single to center field.

Darin Hasty moved Conkovich to second with a shot to left field, but Troy's Tom King robbed Cathey of at least a double with a diving catch in left field to retire the side.

The local nine picked up its final run in its half of the sixth, to increase its lead 9-5, when Moulton reached on a fielder's choice, stole second and Thurman doubled in the Granite City catcher with a shot down the third base line.

Troy scored one run in the bottom of the seventh and mounted a small threat as it loaded the bases and brought the go ahead run in the plate. It could have ended different, but didn't as Granite City's Kelly Krausz relieved Bob Dietrich to preserve the win.

The local nine's record to 4-5. Granite City will entertain Belleville

District 22 All-Star game is this Friday

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

ALTON — Area baseball fans will get the best of both worlds Friday at Alton's Gordon Moore Park.

At 8 p.m., the District 22 American Legion All-Star game will be held, showing the best of southwestern Illinois talent. However, the big show is the fifth game of the United States vs. Korea Collegiate All-Star Championship Series. That game begins at 8:45 p.m.

The District 22 all-star game is the first of two All-Star games to be held this season. The second game will be held near the end of the American Legion season as usual. For this game, District 22 managers were asked to pick three players, one being a pitcher, for the team.

Catcher Daren DePew, infielder Vince Mitchell and pitcher Mike Zukas were the Tri-City American Legion players selected for the North Division All-Star team.

The complete roster for the North Division All-Star team is: Dave Vieth (Edwardsville) and Sonny O'Connell (Troy).

Infielders: Mitchell, Jeff Juhlin (Alton), Dan Hopkins (Alton), Ed Barrett (Bethalto), Marc Parker (Collinsville), Tracy Roe (East Alton), Jeff Gibbons (Highland).

Outfielders: Brian Castings (Bethalto), Brent Holten (Collinsville), Shane Gibbs (East Alton), Doug Yarnik (Edwardsville), Jeff Schulte (Highland), Jeff Sues (Troy).

Pitchers: Zukas, Marty Jones (Alton), Paul Standifer (Bethalto), Pete Delkus (Collinsville), John Pearson (East Alton), Kevin King (Edwardsville), Joe Brinker (Highland), Bill Carringer (Troy).

The South Division All-Star team has not been named as of Wednesday.

The other all-star game displays some of the best amateur talent in the world. The USA team which is playing in the series will be in the Park (Alton), Dan Hopkins (Alton), Ed Barrett (Bethalto), Marc Parker (Collinsville), Tracy Roe (East Alton), Jeff Gibbons (Highland).

The Korean team plays a style similar to Whitley Herzog's St. Louis Cardinals. The Koreans combine singles, doubles, bunts and stolen bases to score runs and win games.

The Koreans led the series 3-1 after Wednesday's game. The final two games of the series will be played at ADC Field in St. Ann, Mo., at 8 p.m. Saturday and at Busch Stadium Sunday, 45 minutes after the end of the Cardinals-Chicago Cubs game.

GC HS's Tournament of Champions gets sponsor

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — For the first time, the annual high school soccer tournament, the Tournament of Champions, will have a sponsor. The Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Alton, The Granite City Board of Education approved the sponsorship at its last meeting.

But a sponsor is not the only first. In addition to the Pepsi sponsorship, the tournament will be hosted by Granite City High School, not Granite City South as it has in the past. Furthermore, there will be 12 teams competing in the mid-season affair instead of the eight which competed last year. Prior to last year's tournament, only four teams competed in the elite soccer tournament. The tournament will run four days, Oct. 5-8.

In addition to last year's entries — Granite City South, DeSmet, Vianney, Riverview Gardens, Reitz Memorial, Collinsville, New Trier and McClellan North — the tournament will include Chaminade High of St. Louis, Melville, Glenbrook North of suburban Chicago and Hazelwood Central. Last year, Granite City South won the tourney with a 1-0 victory over McClellan North.

According to Granite City High School soccer coach, Gene Baker, the tournament may some day include as many as 16 teams.

In reference to the first-time sponsorship of the tournament, Baker praised Walter Milton, vice president of Pepsi-Cola in Alton, for his support of the annual tournament.

"We're really enthusiastic about the sponsorship," Baker said. "Their (Pepsi-Cola of Alton) endorsement and sponsorship will help make it the premier high school soccer tournament in the nation."

The Granite City High School coach said Pepsi's sponsorship will help make the Tournament of Champions "the best high school tournament in the nation." And that, he said, was the initial intent of the tournament.

Calling Pepsi's sponsorship of the tourney "a way of putting something back into the community," Milton said the sponsorship was "an investment in youth."

Pepsi's sponsorship of the tournament did not just happen. Milton agreed to sponsor the tourney after Joe Fedora, District Nine's director of athletics and physical education, met with him earlier this month.

As a result of their meetings, Pepsi has agreed to pay the cost of printing the programs, supply winning trophies, include $100 for the cost of painting the Tournament of Champions kickboard, furnish $400 towards a pre-tournament banquet, provide half the cost of uniforms to the tournament champion which wins for the second time, provide favors for tourney coaches and lastly furnish one soccer ball to each team entered in the tournament.

Former Steeler Kickers

Burton, Macko, Gibbs will attend Sauk Valley

Three former Granite City High School North soccer players have chosen to attend Sauk Valley College, in Dixon. The three are Jim Burton, fullback; Mike Macko, winger; and Darrell Gibbs, fullback. All are 1983 graduates of Granite City North, playing there under the direction of head coach Bob Kehoe.

Al Hardersen, coach of the Sauk Valley team, said, "These young men will contribute to our rapidly growing program at the college. Sauk is pleased to announce their selection both from an academic and athletic standpoint."

He went on to say, "Jim has great determination to succeed and is a coachable player, qualities that are most important at the college level." The Sauk coach looks for Mike to "help put the ball in the back of the net." Hardersen added that, "Mike will give the Redmen an added threat from the side. Darrell has the size to help fill some gaps in our defense. We expect him to develop very rapidly into one of our toughest defenders."

These three former North players join three 1982

Steelers grads, Ron Rowden, 1983 Redmen co-captain, Greg Beeler and Paul Barrington at Sauk Valley College.

Sauk's schedule includes the University of Wisconsin at Madison, University of Wisconsin at Platteville, Beloit, Marycrest, Rockford, Aurora, MacMurray and Belleville Area College.

MAC-Jr. Legion gets even with Alton

Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

MITCHELL — Mitchell Athletic Club-Junior American Legion baseball coach Myron Merz has been critical of his team's offense lately. And justifiably so.

In its last four games, Merz's nine has failed to produce at the plate, losing two and tying another pair. With the lack of offense, Merz said his team has been lucky to have only lost the pair.

"The way we've been hitting lately, we're lucky to have only lost the two," Merz said. "At least with the ties we have the opportunity to come back and try them again when we should be hitting better."

Against Alton Monday night, MAC appeared to be heading out of its hitting slump, as they hit AL Post 126 8-6, but the local team still didn't win. But then, top, they didn't lose.

After eight complete innings and a 3-3 deadlock, the game was called because of darkness. It's MAC's second extended game in nine this season. The game will be continued on Thursday, July 14, when MAC travels to Alton.

Alton broke on top in the first inning when Dan Fitzgerald reached on an error by MAC third baseman Randy Burgess, stole second, advanced to third on a second error and was then singled by Alton's Tony Holmes.

After Holmes reached, however, MAC put an end to Alton's first inning by fielding two fly balls.

MAC knotted the game in its half of the first inning when Jerry Booker singled to left-center field; advanced to third on Doug Druhe's single and then reached home when MAC's catcher, Tim Holt, threw to second in an attempt to catch Druhe on the double steal.

At that point, everything was going well for MAC. Booker was in safely at home and Druhe, who hasn't been out of a full-length leg cast that long, was safe at second. Booker, by the way, was 3-for-4 on the evening and was responsible for two of MAC's three runs.

After an uneventful Alton second inning, MAC took a 2-1 lead in the bottom half of the second. Keith Coakley led off with a single down the left field line, stole second and then scored when Fitzgerald dropped Greg Ehlers' long fly to left field.

But prosperity didn't last for long. In the top half of the third inning, Alton tied the game when Fitzgerald led off with a single to center field. The Alton left fielder stole second base and advanced to third and then home on a pair of fielder's choices.

Tied 2-2 in the bottom of the third, MAC again went back on top when Druhe tripled in Booker who singled the frame before.

Druhe, however, was out at home as he tried to stretch the three-bagger into four. When he got there, Alton's Holt was waiting for him with ball in hand for the put out.

Alton tied the game at 3 apiece in the top half of the fifth when Tad Holt reached on a walk, advanced on an infield hit by Joe Bowen and then scored when Chris Norton lined down the third base line.

MAC exited the inning when sixth batter Derrick Dunlap grounded out to pitcher Derek Merz.

For the remaining three innings, both teams threatened, but in Alton's sixth inning it looked as though the neighbors to the north would blow it open.

With the bases load and no outs, Fitzgerald flied out to Booker in right field. Adam Cartwright, who was at third, tagged up as soon as Booker pulled it down and made a bee line for home. Booker's throw was right on the money. Druhe made the reception for the put out.

MAC's best scoring opportunity came the eighth inning when both Greg Nemeth and Booker reached on singles. With two out, Druhe slapped a shot to deep left-center field. But, the hit was high, which enabled Bowen time to get underneath it for the out.

NOTE: Scott Speck, who entered the game in the sixth for MAC starter Merz, threw brilliantly. Speck, a lanky right-hander, has not allowed a run in 14 innings pitched. Dave Rintoul was the starter for Alton. He was relieved by Tad Holt in the third inning.

ALT 1 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 3 6 2

MAC: Booker 3-4, Druhe 2-4, Nemeth 1-4, Coakley 1-3, Tate 1-3.

ALTON: Fitzgerald 1-5, Holmes 1-4, Bowen 1-4, Norton 1-3, Dunlap 1-4, Cartwright 1-2.

TRAPPED. Alton's Adam Cartwright (left) turns back towards third base as MAC's Doug Druhe attempts to run him down during the sixth inning of Monday's Junior Legion baseball game in Mitchell. Cartwright, who was on third, tagged up and headed for home after teammate Dan Fitzgerald flied out the left field. Jerry Booker's throw from left field, however, was in time for the put out. After eight innings, the game ended in a 3-3 tie.

Redbird Review makes debut Monday

ST. LOUIS — The Redbird Review, a weekly tabloid magazine and the official publication of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals, will make its debut at newsstands throughout the St. Louis area on Monday, June 20, team officials have announced.

"We have been studying the possibility of sponsoring an 'official' Cardinal publication for more than a year," said Gary Blase, team vice president/business operations, "in order to provide our fans with an inside source of team information, feature stories, player background and baseball schedules and events.

"And we've finally reached the point where we are able to launch the publication — Redbird Review — and make it available on a weekly basis by newsstand sales or by subscription."

Beginning June 20, the Redbird Review will appear weekly during the baseball season in the St. Louis area and other Cardinal fan areas; during the off-season, the magazine will be published on a monthly basis, totaling 38 issues during a year's publication.

Each 24-page issue, printed both in color and black-and-white, will focus on the team's weekly results, player and manager interviews, team announcements, statistics and special sports columns by local writers.

The new publication will be made available by sale, at $1 per copy, at 2,500 newsstand and vendor locations throughout the bi-state area; and by mail subscription, at $20 per year.

Subscription requests should be mailed to Redbird Review, 5204 W. Main, Belleville, Illinois 62223.

Crone wins four firsts Jr. Olympics

Gary Crone, of Granite City, picked up four first places last weekend in the Ozark Junior Olympic Regional Track Meet held in Poplar Bluff, Missouri.

Crone, a 14 year old who attended Grigsby Junior High last year, won the 400 meters, the long jump, the triple jump and the high jump. It was the first time in the 15-year history of the regional that an individual has won four firsts. In addition to his first place performances, Crone was presented the "Outstanding Performance Award."

In the 400 meters, Crone posted a time of :54.9, while amassing more than 60 feet in his other three field events. In the long jump, Crone bettered the other contestants with a jump of 19-feet-3. In the triple jump, Crone managed a 37-feet-6 first place finish and a 5-feet-8 performance in the high jump.

Crone's first place performances have earned him a berth in the TAC Nationals in Dayton, Ohio, June 24 and 25.

Sykes nears Peru stolen base record

Kevin Sykes, a junior at Peru State in Peru, Neb. and a graduate of Granite City High School South, recorded 27 thefts this past season while only being caught out twice for the Peru Bobcats.

The speedster had a string of 21 straight before being thrown out and is only seven away from the Bobcat all-time record set by John Donahue in 1979.

Sykes batted .386 for the year with 32 hits in 83 plate appearances, scored 28 runs, and walked 26 times. His on base percentage was .523.

The Bobcats finished the 1983 season with an 11-14 record under first-year coach Nick Petrillo, who too is from Granite City.

Sykes is the son of Shirley and Kaye Sykes.

Granite City girls dominate Select Team tryouts

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

ALTON — When Illinois soccer fans think of Granite City, they usually think of all of the state championship Granite City South won or the Mexican Honorary Commission's success in McGuire Cup play.

Hidden in relative obscurity is the dominance Granite City holds over girls soccer in the state. That dominance was very much evident at the United States Soccer Federation Region II Select Team Tournament Saturday and Sunday at Alton's Gordon Moore Park.

Numbers do not lie. Of the 14 girls on the Under 19 Illinois Select girls soccer team roster, 10 of the players are from Granite City. What makes it more remarkable is that the Illinois team won three of four games at the tournament.

No records were recorded and no trophies were awarded, but that didn't matter to the Illinois team. The big thing was beating Missouri's select team in the finale of the tournament. Illinois won 1-0 on Kathy Juzasz's goal off a pass from Chris Kessler.

The majority of the Granite City girls who played on the select team played for Bob Kurilla's Under 19 team which was suspended from play in the girls' McGuire Cup competition. Most of the girls from Missouri came from the state championship team.

It was that incentive of beating those girls that prompted Illinois to play a ball control game after scoring the goal.

"You're not supposed to go for a victory that way," said Illinois Select Coach Tom Simpson. "But I felt we were playing under. I apologized to the Missouri coach for the way, and he understood why we played that way."

Besides Kessler and Juzasz, other Granite City players included Mary Blisch, Sue Schmetke, Rita Harrell, Robin York, Chris Myers, DeeDee Durbow, Nancy McClew, Nancy Jones and Teresa Solman.

It's a shame that girls like Chris Kessler, who is better than 99 percent of the boys who play soccer, won't have the chance to go farther than the Region II select team," Steve Schwartz, Region II chairman of the United State Youth Soccer Association's select team program.

With the Granite City girls playing hard, Simpson was happy with the Illinois Select Team's performance this year. He was unhappy with the politics he continually had to deal with through the years. That's one of the reasons why Simpson will no longer coach select teams for Illinois.

Chicago girls to play on the select team along with the Granite City and Collinsville girls. The problem was that most of the coaches in Chicago thought their girls should try out.

"I really don't think we have the best team we could have had, but we did have a very good team without those girls. I thought we probably worked together better this way than we would have otherwise," Simpson said.

Part of the reason Simpson was upset was that state official snubbed him despite the success of the girls team and his involvement with the boys team.

"The people from the state walked by me and wouldn't say a thing to me. That really upset me," Simpson said. "They don't care enough about the people downstate."

Simpson sees the only way that problem will ever be solved in by creating and Illinois North and an Illinois South youth soccer association, similar to the Ohio divisions.

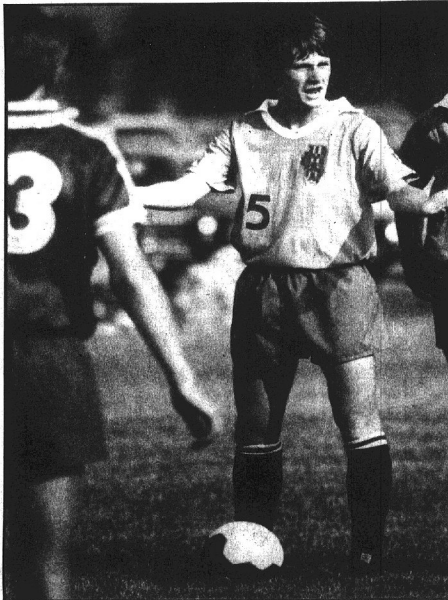

In Ohio, everything north of Columbus is considered Ohio-North by the USSF. Likewise, that part of Ohio south of Columbus is considered Ohio-South by the USSF.

While the Under 19 team was playing well, the Under 16 girls had little success. The Under 16 record was 0-3-1.

The girls began with the lack of success of that team. "I'm the kind of coach who is used to playing with lots of talent like the Under 19 team, and I really didn't put as much time in that team as I should have."

Granite City girls on that team included Angie Moore, Diana Takmajan, Mary DeKund, Kathy Thomas, Karen Hammond, Michelle Williams, Diana Kassing, Martha Mendoza, Debbie Barket, Diederia Baggett, Sheila Bristol and Pam Butler.

Granite City boys also had their share of representation on the Under 17's and Under 15's teams. Bill Henry, Troy Moore and Tony Segobiano were named to the Under 17's Illinois Select team and were involved in many of the goals scored by that team.

The Under 15's team included Frank Sollner, Scott Blason and Mike Dennis of Granite City.

The important, of course, in the select tournament was not won-loss records. The goal was to be named to the Select Team Camp July 10 at the University of Evansville in Indiana. Announcements of 36 players from each group should be made late this week by Schwartz. Eighteen players will move on to the Na-

TONS OF SOCCER. The United States Soccer Federation Region II Select Team Tournament was held at Alton's Gordon Moore Park Saturday and Sunday, and Granite City athletes played a big role in all four of the Illinois Select Teams at the tournament. At left, Bill Henry, who played for the Under 17 1-2 select team, asks the referee to move back the Indiana line during a direct free kick. Above, Kathy Juzasz of the girls Under 19 team maneuvers through the Indiana line.

Schwartz was happy with Gordon Moore Park and the enthusiasm southwestern Illinois soccer fans showed towards the tournament. "If it was up to me, we would play the tournament in Alton every year. I know we will be back because everything worked out very well for us," Schwartz said.

Nationals turn back GC's McDonald's hurlers

By BELINDA CONLEY
for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The undefeated Edwardsville Nationals pounded 16 hits to defeat McDonald's 12-2 in Inter-City League play at Wilson Park, Wednesday.

The game began with a bang when Edwardsville's Mike Robertson hit a two-run homer in the first inning. The homer gave Edwardsville a lead that they never relinquished.

The Nationals extended their lead to six runs in the half of the second. Jamie Senanisin led off the inning with a single to right field, went to second on a passed ball, and then scored on a single by Greg Steiner. Steiner was thrown out at second trying to stretch his single into a double. John Wood hit a single later in the inning and scored off a double to right center by Brian Rabkes. Robertson then tripled to send Rabkes home and scored himself on a single to left by Dan Allaria.

McDonald's scored its only runs in the fourth when it trailed 7-0. Dan Schaus led off the inning with a walk, was advanced to second on an infield out, and scored on a single up the middle by John Pritchard. Pritchard stole second, was moved over to third on a single by Steve Ficker, and scored when a routine fly ball popped out of the glove of Edwardsville center fielder Jamie Senanisin.

Edwardsville bats were silent in the fourth and fifth, but in the sixth they were heard once again as the Nationals scored two more runs.

With two men on in the seventh, Robertson hit his second home run of the night, finishing the scoring for the Nationals.

Edwardsville played a very good game, but not good enough to warrant such a lopsided score. Wilson had to play in both games.

Harris says that lack of interest on his players' part is to blame for the team's poor showing.

"I have 22 players and only 9 of them showed up today, there is just not enough interest among the players," Harris said. "The situation was the same in last Sunday's double header against the Granite City Chiefs, when only eight players showed up and coach Dave Wilson had to play in both games."

Dinner honors SEMC worker

Lya Roberts was honored at a surprise retirement dinner recently at Ravanelli's Restaurant.

She was recognized for her 17 years of service in the dietary department at St. Elizabeth Medical Center (SEMC).

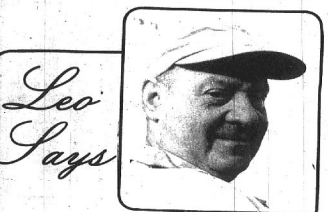

Guests were Steve Mitchell, Candy Bain, Barbara Parker, Tillie Martinez, Jackie Dickerson and daughter, Thelma Knott.

Linda Lang, Jimmy Hillmer, Nellie Pryor, Mabel King and Vivia Nelson.

Others attending were Monica Andrews, Edna Bennett, Adele Baker, Lucille Healy, Lou Huffstetter, Jay Edwards, Shirley Schiller, Anne Moran, Ethel Bridges and Stephanie Rodgers.

The party also was attended by Sister Mary Thomas, chairman of the SEMC board.

STRAWBERRY HILL IS COMING

Check your evergreens for bagworms. This year's eggs should be hatched now. Look close to the under side of branches for small bagworms. Bags will only be about 1/4 inch in size now. Spray shrubs with Bagworm Spray, Seven, Malathion or Thuricide.

Albers-Lybarger

Miss Sara Diane Lybarger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lybarger, 1820 Primrose Ave., and John Joseph Albers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albers, 1304 Northumberland, St. Louis, exchanged wedding vows on May 27 at St. Jerome's Church in St. Louis.

The Rev. Art Bromschwig, a cousin of the groom, officiated at the 6:30 evening ceremony. Ann Kuhn presided at the organ and accompanied Ray Alexander, soloist, as he sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "One Hand, One Heart," and "The Wedding Song."

Attending the bride were her sisters, Bette J. Lybarger, Linda Logan and Sue Kasbeer, and Cathy Messina, Becky Foote and Debbie Lavelle, the latter three are friends of the bride.

Ann Logan and Julie Kasbeer, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls with Stephen Logan, a nephew of the bride, as the ringbearer. The groom chose his brother, Fred Albers, as best man, Jeff Agnew, James Kissinger, Greg Gorman, Kurt Pitzer, and John Kurz were groomsmen.

A 1978 graduate of Granite City High School North, the bride also graduated in 1982 from the University of Missouri at Columbia with a B.S. Degree in Nursing. She is employed at St. Louis University Hospitals.

The groom was graduated from St. Louis University High School and currently is a senior geology student at the University of Missouri at Columbia. He is working for Gillespie & Powers in St. Louis.

A reception following the religious service was hosted at the Machineists Hall in St. Louis. After a wedding trip to Paradise Island, Nassau, Bahamas, the newlywed couple will reside in Columbia, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kierski

Kierski-Leslie

The wedding of Miss Pamela Jean Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Leslie, Rural Route Two, Granite City, and Richard L. Kierski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kierski, 810 Washington Ave., Madison, was solemnized on May 7 at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave.

Nuptial music was provided by Carl Holm, soloist, who was accompanied by the church organist.

The Rev. Carl Watkins officiated at the 2:00 clock afternoon ceremony.

Guests were received at a reception given at Englebert Hall in Madison.

Honor attendant was Denise Flaughter and bridesmaids included, Linda Leslie, a sister of the bride, Debbie Kromraj, the groom's sister, Donna Sanders, and Beth Ann Huckla, both cousins of the groom.

Amy Tadlock and John Ventura, a cousin of the groom, served as the flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

The groom chose Lann Crews as best man, Steve Kromraj, the groom's brother-in-law, John Leslie, the bride's brother, Gene Kierski, a brother of the groom, and Todd Huckla, a cousin of the groom, were groomsmen.

Serving as ushers and candlelighters were Mike Voloski and Mike Kromraj, both cousins of the groom.

Gardenaires Club makes cache pots

A workshop on fabric covered cache pots was held last week, at the Edwardsville home of Mrs. Roy Hoffman. The members met at 10 a.m. and heard Walter Wisniewski explain the construction of the pots. He then assisted those present in making individual cache pots.

The hostesses served a salad lunch at noon, after which the president, Mrs. Richard Kerch, presided at a short business meeting. Roll call was answered with information on the cactus family, which had been designated the house plant of the month.

Mrs. Al Malotki reported the flower bed at Wilson Park had been planted by club members, and the horticulture chairman, Mrs. William Long, led a discussion on mulches and their uses.

She said the three basic functions of a mulch was to control the soil temperature, the moisture content of the soil, and weed control.

Mrs. Hermann announced the display at the mini-garden information center, featured dailies for the month of June. She also noted legislation was pending in the United States Congress to declare the second week in June annually as National Garden Week.

At the conclusion of the meeting the president presented the members with "energy tree" seedlings, to be planted in their home gardens. The Energy Tree Program is a special project of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. All garden club members are filled with the National Council are urged to plant strategically placed trees to help reduce cooling and heating costs, as well as helping to prevent soil erosion, and contribute to a more beautiful environment. Mrs. Kirch explained.

GOP Women's Club plans patio party

Plans were finalized for a "presidents patio party" to be held on July 12, at 6:30 p.m. at 117 Riviera Drive, during the June meeting of the Illinois Federation of Republican Women's Club.

Reservations must be made to the membership chairman, Verna Michel, 931-2098, no later than July 9. Meat and a beverage will be furnished and all attending are to bring a covered dish, it was announced.

Chaplain Ruth Lucas opened the session, held at Burn's Cafeteria, with a prayer followed by the pledge of allegiance.

President Janet Wilson presided over the meeting and introduced guests, Elmo Gruenfelder, George Walter and Mrs. Bernice Johanning.

Members agreed to sponsor a lemonade stand at the Downtown Sidewalk sales with Gladys Newman, ways and means chairman, and Elizabeth Wilson, teen-age Republican leader in charge of the project.

Mrs. Newman, said the summer will be a busy time for the club as plans are being formulated for the annual meeting on Dec. 6 and an anthem, to be awarded as the top prize, is being created. Dinner dance tickets will be sold by the members and the membership is to assist the Granite City Republican committee with "trip tickets."

The president then gave a review of the state meeting of the Illinois Federation of Republican Women and the largest women's political organization in the country. Since 1949 IFRW, an affiliate of the Illinois GOP party, has been devoted to building political leadership among women, she added.

She also announced the state board meeting set for July 16 will be in Mount Vernon, Mo. Mrs. Wilson, who is serving on the state board as resolution chairman, talked about the state participation in "campaign hours" program and sustaining memberships.

Mrs. George Walter gave a talk on the county federation annual meeting and the traveling trophy which is awarded to clubs for attendance. The next session is scheduled for Oct. 17 in Edwardsville, she explained.

Laureate Chapter installs officers

Installation of newly elected officers of the Laureate Alpha Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority took place at the final meeting of the 1982-83 year held in the home of Mrs. Pat Tsigoloff.

Those to serve for the ensuing year, beginning in the fall, include Delores Dortch, president, Norma Rains, vice-president, Lora Mae Lombardi, recording secretary, Jane Laule Stevens, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Tsigoloff, treasurer and Evelyn Tolliver, extension officer.

After the formal ceremony all members renewed in unison their affirmation of loyalty to the chapter and to its elected officers. Under the direction of the officers the meeting was called to order and the opening ritual was repeated.

The new president announced committees to assist her during the forthcoming season. They are Jane Stevens and Lora Mae Lombardi, program; Norma Rains, membership; Arlene Haldean, Mrs. Rains and Evelyn Tolliver, social; Imogene Forrest, publicity; Mrs. Dortch, Mrs. Tsigoloff, ways and means; Mrs. Tolliver and Mrs. Stevens, service.

Special committees are, Ruth Stoyanoff, yearbook; Mrs. Haldean and Mrs. Forrest, photographers; Martha Dyer, scrapbook; Mrs. Tsigoloff, girl of the year; and Miss Stoyanoff, librarian.

Names were drawn for secret sisters for the new year. During the May revealing day the gold key charm was awarded to Miss Stoyanoff, it was noted.

All committee chairmen reported that projects for the year were completed and the social and program committee members were directed to combine their session to plan the calendar for the new year.

Plans were discussed for a party to honor Mrs. Martha Jean Dyer who is retiring as manager of Comfort Heating after 11 years of service.

Members-at-large attending the session were Mrs. Bea Brackett and Mrs. Juanita Calve.

A historical talk on the city of Madison provided the topic of the cultural program given by Mrs. Haldean. A dessert course was served by the hostess, after the meeting.

I AM BACK IN BUSINESS!

Although disaster struck my office on May 1st in the form of a tornado, I have much to be thankful for. I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people that helped so much.

I wish to thank my office staff and all their young friends that worked long hours to help us clean up and restore the office.

I wish to thank the following business people that worked late into the night most of the time and on weekends because they were sympathetic to our need to get back:

- Roger Fountain Construction Company
- Butler Carpet Company
- Lambert Heating & Air Conditioning
- Grove Plumbing Company
- Business Equipment Center
- Ferds Florist for offering us temporary quarters.

I would especially like to thank Crawford Agency and Shelter Insurance Company who wasted no time in resolving the insurance problems. They paid the insurance claims within a week and enabled us to move ahead.

Lastly but MOST IMPORTANT I would like to thank all of my patients who were most tolerant and understanding during this crisis. It's nice to know there are people who care.

Employee assistance to continue

The Granite City School Board decided last week to continue the district's employee assistance program in 1983-84.

Supt. B.J. Davis described it as "a very positive feature for our staff members. It is good for morale and therefore good for the school district."

The annual $2,500 budget covers a varied self-improvement activity program. During the spring 1983 semester, course enrollments totaled 618 in 37 different activities.

Participants paid the costs of materials used. Coordinators of the program were Leigh Heller and Merina Musterman; other administrators will be in charge in 1983-84.

Plans are less certain for professional counseling. This cooperative effort by the district and St. Elizabeth Medical Center has provided individual consultation for school employees and members of their families.

Present grant funding has expired for the counseling, and financing is to be sought from another source. The therapy was directed toward personal problems of the kind that can affect job performance.

The board postponed action until June 26 on a $600 annual direct affiliate fee to the National School Board Association.

Secretary George Moore praised NSBA information and lobbying programs and said affiliated school systems receive assistance when attending education workshops. At Robert Maxwell's request, Supt. Davis is to determine what penalties would result from non-payment of the fee.

Application was made for a $1,800 grant through the Ten-County Consortium to finance a curriculum development workshop that will be held June 27 to July 1. The district is to pay for printing a curriculum guide that will be completed during the five days.

Twelve teachers from appropriate academic departments will develop a curriculum for the second-year "seminar" program, including critical analysis, speed reading, current events, world cultures, comparative religions, science, creative leisure and national test preparation.

Plans are less certain for equipment market value by asset classification. The appraisal cost will be shared by the school district and Belleville Area College.

The structure and some of the equipment have been leased to BAC, which will operate a two-year college at North.

It was decided to seek a $1,800 grant from the Illinois Department of Rehabilitation to pay salaries in 1983-84 to 11th and 12th grade retarded students participating in a work-study plan. Under the program, they are placed in jobs in the community.

Finance Director Norman S. Owca reported that the district will not have to borrow the full $578,000 projected for building fund tax warrants. Specific borrowing authority to bolster the fund was increased from $200,000 to $300,000 for the remainder of the July 1982-June 1983 year.

use a large South classroom for an a five-day Chapter I (formerly Title I) seminar Aug. 15-19, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Topic will be "computers in Chapter I reading."

The Grigaby Junior High band and vocal club are donating a receiver, speakers and microphones to the school.

R. Dron Electrical Co. was paid $900 in labor costs for two men to climb 90-foot light standards at the Fehling Road soccer and baseball fields to replace burned-out ballasts.

Schiller will provide instant color photographic film on its bid of $704, while instructional supply purchases from nine firms will total $2,414, including $724 from Latta and $564 from Elan.

Providing physical education equipment will be BSN Corp., $347, Jerry's Sport Shop $249, A & H Sales $211, Play Sports $155 and Black & Co., $128.

Leigh Heller, physical education coordinator, said PE equipment from the six schools being closed will help supply the remaining 12 schools. Expenditures of $1,993 last week are $8,239 less than those of a year ago.

Diversified Lab Services for $652 will provide and process 65 rolls of movie film for use at varsity football games in 1983.

A study showed that only two schools in this region have switched from film to videotape for exchanges, with other schools. The two schools may go back to movie film for the 1983 season.

GRADUATE. Lori Ann Cunningham graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, last week, in the field of Medical Technology. The daughter of Mrs. Dolores Cunningham of Granite City, she will begin working at Jewish Hospital in the Chemical Laboratory.

Celebration at Chateau Townhomes Includes drawing for free rent

As part of a summer celebration, Chateau Townhomes in Bethalto is having a special drawing to give away a two-bedroom townhome rent-free for one year.

The summer celebration, which ends July 2, also includes a $200 cash bonus for all new tenants who lease during the celebration, plus a "no security deposit" program for those who qualify. Chateau Townhomes also will be giving away free frisbees, T-shirts and refreshments, during select weeks of the celebration.

The new management of Chateau Townhomes is Midwest Multi-family Management, Inc. Midwest has also taken over the operation of seven other apartments in the Madison County area including: University Gardens, Wood River Gardens and Lafayette Square in Wood River; Kingston Estates in Bethalto; Arlington Heights and Gaslight Walk in Pontoon Beach and Hamlet in Hamlet.

For more information interested persons may stop by Chateau Townhomes during the summer celebration at office 194C, Rou des Chateaux Drive, Bethalto, or call Midwest Multi-Family at 1-377-3000.

FINES DISTRIBUTED

Fines totaling $13,783 from May traffic cases heard in the Third Judicial Circuit, have been distributed to Quad-City area governmental units. Checks distributed totaled $9,618 to Granite City, $1,129 to Madison, $1,900 to Venice and $1,136 to Pontoon Beach. Collinsville reported the highest fines at $20,182. The state received $57,602 for overweight truck fines, the Illinois Commerce Commission received $144, the Department of Conservation $345, and the county government received $51,006.

BURGLARS STEAL $2,100 IN TIRES

Twenty-eight tires valued at $2,100 were stolen in a burglary at the Wells Tri-City Tire Co., 2248 Madison Ave., reported Monday.

The intruders knocked in a door panel and broke a padlock to gain access to the service garage, reports said. The tires were delivered to the firm Friday, Charles Adams said.

4 Injured on West Pontoon

Four persons sustained injuries in an accident late last week in the 1200 block of West Pontoon Road when an auto operated by Louise M. Douglas, 36, 619 Briarcliff, struck the rear of a pickup truck, which was halted for a train at the railroad crossing.

The impact pushed the pickup, operated by Clyde F. Miller, 21, of 2177 Bern Ave., into the rear of an auto, also stopped, driven by Edward F. Smith, 24, of 2415 Delta Ave. All three vehicles were headed east at the time.

Suffering injuries were Mrs. Douglas and passengers in her auto, Jan D. Douglas, 11, and Lisa R. Douglas, 17, both of 19 Briarcliff, and Miller.

LEVART ENLISTS IN THE U.S. ARMY

Mark Levart, son of Jesse and Wilma Levart, 3121 Old Alton Road, has enlisted in the United States Army for four years through the Delayed Entry Program. He is a 1983 graduate of Granite City North High School.

He will be going on active duty Sept. 6. After basic training at Ft. Dix, N.J., he will be trained as a wheel vehicular mechanic and operator at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, before going to his permanent duty station.

Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has sentenced Anthony Rodriguez to a five-year state prison term for an offense occurring Jan. 30 in Venice.

The original charge of armed violence was amended to aggravated battery. A guilty plea was submitted in April and the sentence was ordered six weeks later. Rodriguez resides in Washington Park, St. Clair County.

Three-day fest at St. Mary's

Three nights of special dinners, music, dancing and bingo, as well as games and carnival rides for children of all ages, will highlight the $3rd annual Father's Day weekend picnic June 17-19 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, 10th Street at Alton Avenue, Madison.

Dinner specials will be a fish fry beginning at 1 p.m. Friday and a pork steak cookout beginning at noon Saturday. Both will be served in the school cafeteria. An all-you-can-eat family-style chicken dinner to be served from noon to 7 p.m. Sunday will include giblets, rice, gravy, slaw, green beans, corn, rolls, butter, dessert and coffee or tea. The Sunday dinner will be in Engelbert Hall on 10th Street across from the carnival grounds. Cargoy will be available.

Popular dance music will be played by Dave Hylla and the Good Times Band from 7 to 10 p.m. on Friday, Stan Lata and the Tune Twisters will perform from 7 to 11 p.m. on Saturday and from 7 to 10 p.m. on Sunday.

Games will be played from 7:30 to 10 p.m. each night. Seven carnival rides will be on the grounds. Ticket prices are 75 cents to $1 each. Tickets will be sold in advance for 10 for $5. There will be five hours of unlimited rides Saturday for $7. In the event of rain, the ride offer will be honored Sunday.

Festivities will open Friday afternoon and at noon Saturday and Sunday and will continue nightly until midnight.

Lucky visitors may be given cash, afghans and other items. Game and booth prizes include cakes, kitchen furnishings, ceramics, hand-made and hand-dressed dolls, quilts, embroidered pillowcases, aprons and other decorated items. Refreshments will feature Polish sausage sandwiches, hamburgers, hot dogs, fish, tacos, beer and soda.

Family Camp Meeting begins today

The 1983 Illinois Family Camp Meeting began today and continues through Saturday, June 25, at the Lake Williamson Christian Center Auditorium in Carlinville, Ill. The meetings are free and open to the public. Service times are 10:15 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. with the exception of Sunday, June 19, and Saturday, June 25, when services will be at 2 p.m. and 7:15 p.m.

Opening this year's Family Camp will be Buck and Dottie Rambo of Nashville, Tenn. They will preside of a concert of sacred music tonight.

At 7:15 p.m. Friday, June 17, through Tuesday, June 21, evangelist Dwight Thompson of Downey, Calif., will be the featured speaker. Also singing in each evening service during the entire camp meeting will be Howard and Vestal Goodman of Hanson, Ky. The Rev. Marvin Gorman, of the First Assembly of God Church in New Orleans, La., will be the featured speaker June 22 and 23.

Evangelist Bob Gass of Ackworth, Ga., will conclude the Camp Meeting, speaking June 24 and 25. Also appearing will be Mike Adkins, gospel recording artist and frequent PTL Club television guest.

Other guests scheduled to appear include Dr. C. M. Ward, with the exception of Sunday, June 19, and Saturday, June 25, when services will be at 2 p.m. and 7:15 p.m.

Food and lodging are available at the camp. For additional information, interested persons may call 1-217-854-3261.

SIUE sets framework of financial crisis plan

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has established procedures for general salary reductions or mandatory leaves of absence without pay for all employees if the board should determine that extraordinary economy conditions have required the declaration of a "financial necessity."

A board policy amendment outlining the procedures was approved last week, with provisions that the additions will remain in effect for one year. Prior to the end of the year, the board will review the policy to determine whether any extension of the provisions or modifications will be enacted.

The action was taken by the board after more than two months of discussion by various constituency groups on the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses.

The amendment requires that any proposal presented to the board, in connection with the declaration of a financial necessity, must explain why the action is considered necessary and how the proposed scope and manner of execution of the measures are proportional to necessity and will cause the least possible disruption of the educational process and the least possible hardship to employees. Other elements required to develop and present a proposed plan of action to the board are specified.

University officers said the policy changes provide short-term solutions to a potential financial crisis where severe budget cuts might be imposed. Formerly, the principal way the board could effect savings in salary funds was to reduce the number of persons employed. "Such individual terminations of employment concentrated the fiscal impact upon persons who lose their jobs completely," a board spokesman said.

"In addition, notice requirements for termination of continuing faculty or professional staff take more time to implement than may be available to us before some emergency fiscal action must be taken," the spokesman said. "It is necessary, therefore, to have in place a means of speedily establishing payroll savings if severe budget cuts

Brooks probation on indecent liberties

Marshall E. Brooks, 60, of 2230 Lincoln Ave. has been placed on 30-month probation on two counts of taking indecent liberties with a child. The charges were filed by Granite City police.

On one of the counts, Associate Judge Edward Ferguson also imposed a $750 fine and $75 costs. The sentencing took place at the Madison County Circuit Court this spring, five weeks after guilty pleas were submitted. The offenses occurred March 15, 1982, and the charges were filed March 22, 1982.

The Rev. Philip D. Simcosky has accepted the call to serve as pastor of Suburban Baptist Church, 2500 St. Clair Ave.

His pastoral duties will begin Aug. 15. He is a graduate of William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., where he received a B.S. Degree in Music. Rev. Simcosky also holds a Master of Divinity Degree from Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas, and is presently enrolled at Midwestern Seminary in Kansas City, Mo., where he will soon complete his Doctor of Ministry program.

His wife, Julie, has a degree from Oklahoma Baptist University and her Minister of Religious Education is from Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

The are presently serving at Waverly Baptist Church in Waverly, Mo.

Second child for Wayne Horrells

Scott Anthony is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Betty) Horrell, 220 Clinton Drive, for their second child, a boy, born on June 3 at Christian Northwest Hospital in Florissant.

The new arrival weighed 7 pounds, 2 ounces, and has a 12-year old sister, Melissa Lynn.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Krager and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horrell, all of Raymond, Ill. The great-grandparents are Mrs. Bessie Krager, Raymond, Mrs. Kathryn Masso, Litchfield, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Lush of Taylorville, Ill.

THE REED FAMILY. Rev. Jerry Reed will assume the duties of pastor of Nameoki United Methodist Church on Sunday, June 19, following an appointment by Bishop Leroy C. Hodapp of Springfield, Ill. His wife, Jo Ella, is director of the pre-kindergarten program in Cahokia. Front row is their daughter, Kristi and son, Kenyan.

Nameoki Methodist welcomes new pastor

The Rev. Jerry Lee Reed, currently pastor of the United Methodist Church, Caseyville, will become pastor of the Nameoki United Methodist Church, effective June 19, succeeding the Rev. Eugene Seaman, according to an appointment announced by Bishop Leroy C. Hodapp, Springfield, Ill.

A native of Flora, Ill., the United Methodist clergyman was graduated from Flora Township High School, and from McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., where he received a B.A. Degree. In 1970 Rev. Reed graduated from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., with a Master of Divinity Degree.

Rev. Reed's wife, the former Jo Ella Knight, is a native of Galatia, Ill. The Reed's are parents of two children, Kenyan, age 13, and Kristi, age 10. Mrs. Reed is Director of the Pre-Kindergarten Program operated by the Maplewood Park Baptist Church, in Cahokia.

The minister was ordained elder and became a full member of the Southern Illinois Conference of the United Methodist Church in 1970.

He is currently Chairman of the Conference Program Committee, and a member of the SIUE Wesley Foundation Board of Directors. In addition to his involvement within the United Methodist Conference, Rev. Reed has been an active participant in the Caseyville and Collinsville Area Ministerial Associations, serving as chairman of the former.

Prior to becoming a pastor in Caseyville, Rev. Reed was pastor of the Epworth United Methodist Church in Belleville, and the Faith United Methodist Church in Centerville. He also served as a student pastor for two years while in Georgia, and three years while at McKendree College.

Sarah Circle hears biography

The Sarah Circle of Nidrahaug United Methodist Church met in the church parlor and hear an account of the adventures of World War I flying ace, Edward "Eddie" Rickenbacker.

Laverne Chapman told the story of how Rickenbacker and seven companions drifted for 24 days at sea after they been had forced to land in the Pacific Ocean.

Mrs. Chapman also gave the lesson for the meeting based on Matthew Chapter 6. Mary Ahlvers opened the meeting with a prayer. She also conducted the business session. Clara Sitoff led the Least Cost Devotion.

Forty-two sick calls were reported.

Neighborhood House will hold its annual dinner meeting on June 21. The cost will be $5.

A Lady of the Snows retreat will be held Oct. 28-29. Room will be limited, and reservations should be made as soon as possible.

Mrs. Ahlvers dismissed the group with a prayer. Hostesses were Mrs. Ahlvers, Paula Smith and Olga Tierney.

Others present were Eula Myers, Velma Clements, Eva Evans, Alice Cruise, Mabel Stewart, Katherine VanOrder, Pearl Albion, Lucy Weaver and Doris Wigger.

Boat parades planned
Organizers of the 1984 Louisiana World Exposition, to be held in New Orleans, have invited river interests to take part in on ship '84, similar to op sail '76, held in New York, except that it will include vessels of all types, particularly river boats. The 1984 fair's theme is rivers and how they serve people. Two boat parades are planned.

PRESS-RECORD ASKS GET RESULTS

Galatians 2:1 "... who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth..."

Christ Jesus made this statement, "I am the way, the truth, and the life, and no man cometh unto the Father but by me."

Jesus is the truth. His teachings, His life, His death, and His resurrection all testify to the fact. He is what He says He is, the Son of God.

Have we been bewitched, sidetracked from the truth of God? The teaching of Christ that we should live to do God's will is in the reach of every person on the face of the earth.

Can we not return to Christ's example of love, kindness, compassion, and obedience?

We can, and we must! The time to start is, of course, Today.

Wilson convicted of Rook murder

By ED GURNEY
A jury of eight women and four men deliberated only 45 minutes late last week before finding Terry Wilson guilty of the murder of Garry Rook, last December in Collinsville.

The jury also found Wilson, 27, of Madison, guilty of armed robbery and burglary in the same case.

The trial before Madison County Associate Judge Ed Ferguson began Wednesday. Ferguson did not set a sentencing date.

Mr. Rook, 31, was murdered Dec. 9 after two men forced their way into the condominium he was renting on Lafayette Court.

The other suspect has not been arrested. However, Assistant State's Attorney Keith Jensen, who prosecuted Wilson, said Friday, "We're not through with the prosecution of the murder."

The other suspect, believed to have been the person who fired the single shot that struck the victim in the head and killed him, is in custody in an area jail on charges related to separate incidents. Authorities say they do not have enough evidence to charge him in connection with the Rook murder.

Wilson would face a prison term of 20 to 40 years if he gets the usual sentence for murder. Sentences for armed robbery and burglary are less and would be served at the same time. But under Illinois law, a judge can double a sentence if he deems the crime particularly brutal or heinous.

A source said the Rook murder might fit that category. The murder was execution-style. According to testimony, neither Mr. Rook nor any of the other four people in the condominium at the time of the break-in offered any resistance.

The testimony of three of those people, who said they identified Wilson from police photos, was crucial to the prosecution's case.

Other key testimony was given by Chris Carter, 21, of Madison. He testified he drove Wilson and the other suspect to and from the condominium where the murder took place.

Carter has been charged with the sale of a pound of marijuana to Mr. Rook a few hours before he was murdered. Witnesses said the victim "tossed" several thousand dollars in cash while paying for the marijuana.

"That was probably not the smartest thing that Mr. Rook ever did and probably one of the stupidest things he ever did, as it turned out," Jensen said in his closing argument Friday morning.

Carter allegedly told Wilson and the other suspect about the money.

The last witness to testify for the prosecution was Tina Rook, Garry's sister-in-law. She was last because she was believed to be the prosecution's best witness.

She said she was in a second floor bedroom when a man she later identified as Wilson led her husband, Jerry Rook, into the room at gunpoint.

Tina said she saw the gunman's face before he ordered her, her husband and Rook's wife, Julie, to lie face down on the floor. All three were said to have been covered by a bedspread when the fatal shot was fired. Randy Rook, Garry's cousin, and Garry were ordered into the room by the second gunman, according to testimony.

Tina and Jerry Rook both said they picked Wilson's picture out of a photo lineup given to them in early January by agent Rich Kruse and Dennis Kuba of the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

Asked by Jensen if she was certain of the identification, Tina said, "I'm absolutely certain. There's no question in my mind."

She said her job required her to recognize faces. Under cross-examination by defense attorney Jim Radcliffe, Tina said her job at the time was dancer and waitress at P.T.'s, a St. Clair County nightclub.

She said she had to recognize faces so that she could remember who gave her big tips.

Jerry Rook testified Thursday. He said that before the bedspread was completely over his head, he saw the gunman he later identified as Wilson pistol-whip Randy Rook.

He said Wilson took his leather jacket and wallet. Tina Rook said she yelled at everyone, including Garry, to cooperate with the gunman. Garry was apparently shot after he looked up from the floor of the bedroom, Jerry said. Wilson allegedly told the other gun to shoot any of the Rooks if they looked up.

Also testifying for the prosecution was Chester Eley, who was serving time in prison at Pontiac in January when he agreed to help state agents in the investigation.

Eley was allowed out of prison and arranged a meeting with Wilson on the parking lot at the Venture store in Fairmont City Jan. 12. Eley said Wilson told him a code word, "Garry," that had been used during a house burglary.

A court-sanctioned secret tape recording of that conversation was played to jurors. Ferguson denied Jensen's request to give jurors a transcript of the tape, which was difficult to understand.

Radcliffe presented no evidence or witnesses in defense of Wilson.

During cross-examination and during his closing argument, Radcliffe sought to question the credibility of the prosecution's witnesses. Radcliffe noted that the prosecution had no physical evidence.

Tuition rises at Blackburn College

Tuition at Blackburn College, Carlinville, Ill., will increase $235 per semester beginning this fall, the college announced. That is an increase of $40 per year, from $3,160 to $3,630, said Donald Gix, director of admissions.

Total annual costs at the liberal-arts college, which includes tuition, general student body fee, room and board, will increase to $5,100, up from $4,500 this past year.

Radcliffe also gave the college 15 hours of his labor each week, under the college's student-managed work program.

He added, "Even with the necessary increases Blackburn will remain one of the least expensive selective private colleges in the nation."

Lower costs at Blackburn are made possible by the student-managed work program. Founded in 1913, the work program requires that each student work 15 hours per week, at on-campus tasks, in partial payment of his education. The co-educational college enrolls 525 students.

Foster care puts a smile on young face

A poem by a foster son makes it clear that Dave Hinkley is as special to the youngster as "ET" of movie fame.

In the months since Clark's placement in the Hinkley home, Clark has found a father, a teacher and a friend.

"My foster father talks with me," says the smiling teenager. "He goes out of his way to do things with me."

Mr. and Mrs. Hinkley have been foster parents for the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services for about three months. They feel they have love and understanding to offer children, and believe that foster care would give them the opportunity to help a child.

The Hinkleys currently provide care for two children, and find the experience rewarding and, at times, frustrating. "Working with teenagers can be trying," relates Hinkley, "but it's well worth the effort."

The Madison county area is in great need of foster families, a spokesman said this week.

The Granite City Field Office currently serves 300 families with 56 children in foster care.

At present, there are 52 homes in the Granite City area that provide care to children from a seven-county area in the East St. Louis region.

The spokesman added, "If you have love and an understanding to share with a child in need, would like to become foster parents, and meet licensing standards such as current medical information, references, criminal background check and attendance in pre-service training, then call Pat at 876-8965."

Special events mark opening of Thunder River at Six Flags

The Oak Ridge Boys, Joe Duane, William Lee and Richard will be setting the mood on June 18 in two shows at 5 and 9 p.m. in Six Flags' Old Glory Amphitheater.

In celebration of Missouri's newest and only man-made whitewater river, Thunder River — a special entertainment, displays, and demonstrations will dominate the festivities.

Lumberjack shows will be performed daily in the Aquarena featuring log rolling, axe throwing and wood chopping. Performing their hillbilly type version of Romeo Hatfield and Juliet McCoy, the Six Theatre thespians will be bringing this updated regionalized, comedic interpretation of the classic tale to various locations near Thunder River.

Music by the "Stan Waggoner Band" and "Missouri Compromise," as well as authentic mountain folk dancing by the Ozark Cloggers and Cadence Cloggers, will be non-stop during these nine days.

Bringing a colorful ending to the celebration, Six Flags Thunder River Balloon Championship Race will fill the sky on June 25. Approximately 50 balloons from five states, including the largest balloon in St. Louis, will compete for a variety of prizes. Hungarian and GC sisters are reunited after 60 years

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

Life in a country behind the Iron Curtain is not as awesome as some Americans believe, but is sixty much the same as in this country, Mrs. Steve (Elizabeth) Kuncsik of Detk, Hungary, explained in an interview at the home of her sister, Mrs. Steve (Theresa) Szadai, 1712 Poplar St.

The two sisters, Mrs. Kuncsik who is 78 years of age, and Mrs. Szadai, 83, were reunited this month for the first time in 60 years.

"After a visit to the local E. W. Woolworth Store and a downtown jewelry store, Mrs. Kuncsik said, "We have the same merchandise in our stores and we enjoy television the same as people in this country."

"Wages in Hungary are not comparable to the salaries paid here and both men and women work to support their homes and families in Hungary," the visitor said.

Left a widow during World War I, Mrs. Kuncsik was the mother of three small children and been working in the farmland around the village of Detk to support her family. Mrs. Kuncsik continued working in the fields until she reached 65 and retired.

"During those years we worked from sunup until sundown, but today the television has been evolved in farming work only eight hours a day. Women now retire at age 55 and the men retire at age 60. Mrs. Kuncsik explained.

While discussing the work market, Mrs. Kuncsik said, "Profits from the farming industry go to the government and each worker is then paid by the government which also provides a pension when people retire. Taxes are very low and we have a general store in the village which offers clothing, yard goods, notions, household items and almost anything the people need for their homes."

The village of Detk has a population of about 3,000 people. They are required to travel about 14 kilometers to Gyongyos for medical attention and treatment. Gyongyos is a large city in Hungary and similar to a county seat in this country.

Although the hospitals, doctors and dentists are not located in the village, all physical examinations, treatment, medicine and hospitalization are provided free to the people, Mrs. Kuncsik said.

Education for the children also is free and is compulsory for youngsters through the eighth grade.

They then may transfer to a middle school, equivalent to our high school, to prepare for entrance in an university or technical training school.

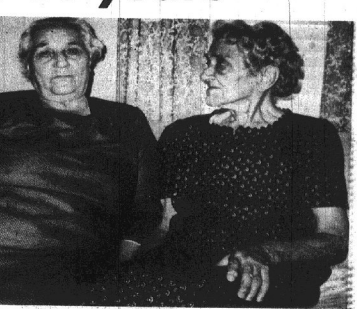

When the Russians came in World War II, all property was confiscated and the former homeowner was given a plot of ground approximately 150 feet wide and 300 feet long. The people were required to build and maintain their own homes on the land.

To supplement her food budget, Mrs. Kuncsik raises two pigs and chickens as well as tends a vegetable garden and fruit trees on her property. "Each year one pig is sold, when ready, and the other is kept for the family," she said.

"Life in Hungary has not changed a great deal, we have freedom to work, build our homes and seek enjoyment, as do people in other countries of the world."

The young people of the village attend dances and, if they desire, travel to a larger city to attend a theatre or shop in the larger city. Mrs. Kuncsik said she heard on the radio and television, "she said."

The trip here was a surprise to Mrs. Szadai, who was overwhelmed and speechless when introduced to her sister, as they did not immediately recognize each other. Mrs. Szadai left her native country when she was 18 to come here and has

Port studies major drainage system

By PAT HAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

Members of the Tri-City Regional Port District studied plans Monday night, which detailed the cost of a new lift station and pipeline to eliminate major drainage problems in the area. According to figures drawn up by Port Engineer Jerry Leveille, the new system would cost the district approximately $25,000, and a second pump could eventually be added as a backup for $7,000.

Leveille detailed an electronic system set in concrete which would be turned on as it is needed.

General Manager Carl Ranft indicated that "an unusual amount of rain" has forced the district to look upon Chouteau Township to take care of its drainage problems.

"Without Chouteau, we would have been flooded out," he stated.

Assistance from Chouteau, the levee district, and the Army during the last six months already has cost the district approximately $5,000 to $6,000 to rent equipment, pay fuel and electric bills and pay for labor. Ranft stated that the new station would be not only cost effective, but necessary for the safety of the local community.

"We have the safety factor to consider," he said.

Ranft assured the board that final plans would be available by the next regular meeting.

In other business, board members approved a grant application requesting $700,000 from the American Development Administration for the construction of a rail storage unit in the existing harbor. A result of the Emergency Employment Act, the grant would allow the district to build a rail storage unit which would provide enough rail track to store cars from 30, 50 or 100 cars during unloading.

According to Assistant General Manager Robert Wydra, the grant application would be made by June 30 and work on the project must begin within three months and end within the year after the grant would be made.

Wydra stated that the district stands a chance of getting the grant if they submit the application on time.

"We meet the eligibility requirements, we have a good project in mind, and if we send our backs a little, we can get in a good application," he said.

Wydra explained that the unit would provide approximately 30 permanent jobs and expressed the hope that these jobs would make the chances of receiving a grant even greater. "Our chances aren't high, but permanent jobs would be available," Wydra concluded.

A more finalized plan will be available at the next meeting.

The board also accepted the resignation of the Manager of Foreign Trade Zone Oscar Nazetta, who is leaving to go into the consulting business.

"Even with his leaving, we hope to have a smooth transition," Carl Ranft said of the resignation.

Bible school fun day set at St. Paul's

"After a fun-filled week at vacation Bible School, sponsored by St. Paul's Church of the Nazarene, 4300 Maryville Road, the students are now looking forward to the VBS "fun day" scheduled for Saturday, June 18, on the church grounds.

"Activities will begin at 1 p.m. and continue until 4 p.m., according to the Rev. Jerry Harris, pastor.

There will be numerous carnival type games with prizes, a junior olympics project and a "dunk the potato" event which is sponsored by the church teen age group.

Soda, hot dogs and popcorn will also be available. Tickets were earned during the school sessions and may be purchased on Saturday for 10 cents each.

Sunday will close the summer school with a special program to be presented by the children and an interregional will also observe Father's Day.

Four men were arrested early Sunday and booked on charges of attempted theft of a motor vehicle following an incident in the 3100 block of Carlson Avenue.

Police went to the scene on a report of a man allegedly trying to remove a tire from a 1972 Ford owned by Steve Galayda, which was parked on the street in front of a dwelling. A Jack was under a wheel of the auto and lug nuts had been removed.

When an officer arrived at the scene, the man fled through nearby yards and got away. It was reported.

Three men were found seated in a Ford LTD with a flat tire at a short distance from the Galayda vehicle when the first man was spotted, police said.

Scott L. Taylor, 18, of 2545 Lynch Ave., one of the men in the car, reported he was the driver, but named another man, Charles Rhoads Jr., 20, of 2518 Angela Drive, as the owner. Those in the auto told police that Rhoads had gone to get a tire.

Reports alleged that Taylor had been drinking alcohol when he again repeated that he had been driving the car. He also was charged with attempted theft, unlawful possession of alcohol by a minor and illegal transportation of alcohol.

Passengers, Jerry D. King, 18, of 2529 Northbridge, and Ronald E. Nelson, 17, of 2220 Orville Ave., also were charged with attempted theft, illegal possession of alcohol by a minor and unlawful possession of alcohol by a minor.

The occupying the car had been seen earlier by another officer putting air in a tire at the Clark Station at Nameoki Road and Washington Avenue, it was reported.

A message was left at the Rhoads residence and Charles Rhoads Jr. came to police headquarters at 4 a.m. Monday. He was charged with attempted theft, unlawful possession of alcohol by a minor and illegal possession of alcohol.

He was released upon posting a $256 cash bond.

In a court appearance Monday, Taylor pleaded innocent to attempted theft and requested a non-jury trial. He pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol, possession of alcohol by a minor and illegal transportation of alcohol and was fined $523, plus costs.

Nelson pleaded innocent to attempted theft and also requested a non-jury trial. He pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol, possession of alcohol by a minor and illegal possession of alcohol and was fined $523, plus costs.

Both Taylor and Nelson were transferred Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Taylor pleaded innocent to attempted theft and requested a non-jury trial, and entered guilty pleas to being a minor in possession and illegal possession of alcohol. He was fined $123, plus costs, and released on recognizance.

McBride leads steel group; profit in GC

Robert D. McBride, longtime Granite City Steel executive, has been promoted to president of the Steel Group of National Steel Corporation, which acquired GC Steel in 1971.

When the Steel Group was created as part of a corporate reorganization in September 1982, McBride moved to Pittsburgh as its executive vice president for operations. As president, he succeeds G. Watts Humphrey, another former Granite City Steel executive.

A 1950 U.S. Military Academy graduate, McBride joined GC Steel in 1953 as an industrial engineer.

He moved to steel operations as a turn foreman on the plant's line in January 1976, and in 1977 moved to Great Lakes Steel in the Detroit area as president of the plant.

He was named president in January 1982 of both Great Lakes and Midwest Steel Division, located at Portage, Ind., in the Chicago metropolitan area.

McBride at various times has headed all three of the Steel Group's principal steelmaking divisions. National Steel is in the process of selling its fourth major steel plant, at Weirton, W. Va., to the employees there.

Howard M. "Pete" Love, also a former GC Steel and Midwest Steel president, is chairman and chief executive officer of National Steel.

National's president and chief operating officer, James Haas, announced that the Steel Group presidency had changed hands in mid-May.

McBride commented, "I am dedicated to the 'mission' statements. The concepts in those documents will continue to be our guides for the actions we take as a group."

"I am proud of the progress we have collectively made during the past several months. Much remains to be done."

"We must continue to do the things we have been doing—working together, working smarter, challenging the old ways and finding better ways to do things."

In another promotion, Dr. John Manda, GC Steel environmental control director, has assumed the position of National's manager of environmental control.

At Granite City Steel, the first round of "mission" meetings was conducted in January for salaried employees. The next round, 37 meetings with groups of salaried employees, was completed last month.

Follow-up meetings for both groups are planned for this year.

The top GC Steel official, Edward Sambuchi, vice president and general manager, said the local plant is progressing well toward implementing the goals, which emphasize adapting to customer needs, improving cost factors, and operating profitably so that shareholders obtain an adequate return on their investment.

Participative management is being encouraged, and the "market-driven" planning focuses on product quality and prompt delivery.

One first round of planning for the Granite City Steel Division since October 1982 was recorded in April 1983.

McBride said that in 1976, and in 1977 moved to Great Lakes Steel in the Detroit area as president of the plant.

Sambuchi said, "After 17 months in the red, it's a pleasure to see at least a little black ink. When you can make a profit on a product such as a low level of shipments, this performance indicates what we can do and achieve when we all work together."

"It also indicates the profits that can be realized when markets and prices improve. But steel markets are not materializing the way we had anticipated, and prices are seriously depressed. We have to do a better job of shipping to our customers on time."

The Steel Group reduced its operating loss for the first quarter of 1983 to $29 million, compared to a $72 million loss in the first quarter of 1982.

National Steel had an overall $35 million loss in January-March 1983, compared to a $40 million loss in the same quarter last year.

Along with the Steel Group's loss, the first quarter saw a $4 million loss in the Fabrication Group and an $800,000 loss in the Diversified Business Group. The other groups within National Steel operated profitably.

Love reported the corporation is expected to be "in the black" before the end of 1983, despite the fact that the U.S. economic recovery has been experiencing a "pause."

He said that National Steel in the first 1983 quarter incurred one of the lowest losses (per ton shipped) of the major steel producers, after having the worst loss per ton among the seven in the first quarter of 1982.

ARREST 2 MEN ON WEAPONS CHARGES

Receiving a report from a Madison County deputy sheriff of two men displaying a long barreled pistol in a vehicle in the vicinity of Douglas and Selb avenues, Venice officers pulled a car at Market and Weaver streets and arrested the occupants, John Hudson, 23, and Walter F. Murphy, 40, both of East St. Louis, during the weekend.

Allegedly confiscated from the vehicle was a .44-caliber magnum revolver.

Hudson was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and not having a valid driver's license. Murphy was booked on charges of unlawful use of a weapon and not having a Firearm Owner's Identification Card.

Both men were released on notices to appear for a July 24 hearing at the Granite City court.

CINDY GRIMES, 16, has been selected to be a state finalist in the 1983 Miss United Teenager Pageant to be held at Illinois State University at Normal, at 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 4. She is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Holmstrom of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City.

First Music Under the Stars performance is 'a hit'

SOUND OF MUSIC.

Visitors to the Wilson Park Pavillion enjoy a free night of music and entertainment Tuesday night as this year's Music Under the Stars concert series opens.

At the left is the adult chorus, made up of anyone in the community who has a desire to sing. Persons interested in joining the chorus are being invited to attend any rehearsal.

At the right is Mrs. Mary Ann Bright, director of the choruses. The children's chorus also performed at each concert and the children performed "Talk to the Animals," "Love Makes the World Go Round," "The Trolley Song" and "I'd Do Anything" during the first concert.

35 years for market holdup here

A 35-year Illinois state prison term has just been ordered by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill for Harold Jeffries, 48, St. Louis, in the Jan. 17 armed robbery of the Schnucks Market in Granite City.

The charge was filed Jan. 18 and Jeffries pleaded guilty in May, with the sentencing following this month at the Madison County Courthouse.

Cooperation by Granite City, Madison and Venice police led to his capture at 14th Street and Grand Avenue a few minutes after the supermarket was robbed at gunpoint.

A .357-caliber revolver and a paper sack containing several hundred dollars were recovered from the yellow auto Jeffries was driving.

The robber entered an office area at the store in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center. He ordered an employee to tie him up and forced another employee to remove cash from a safe.

As he departed toward West Pontoon Road, store employees obtained his car's license number and also were able to describe him. The information was relayed by radio from a Granite City police patrol car at the shopping center.

Madison Police Sgt. William Fanning saw the auto near Sixth Street and Alton Avenue and began to pursue it while calling for assistance. Several patrol cars joined the chase.

Venice Patrolman Ron Brawley moved directly behind the robbery vehicle on 12th Street near Grand Avenue and Granite City Sgt. Roy Kobner's car was running parallel with Jeffries when the latter turned east on 14th Street.

When Brawley and Kobner blocked any route for the escape auto, Jeffries surrendered. The gun was on the front floorboard on the passenger side, and the money was behind the front seat. He had six live rounds of ammunition in a pocket of his clothing.

The ignition of the getaway car had been punched out, officers found. They also learned that Jeffries was wearing a wig.

Prison term for property damage

Gilbert Main, 38, Houston, Texas, charged Jan. 17 with felony property damage in Madison, was sentenced this month by Circuit Judge Philip Rarick to serve two years in a state prison.

Main pleaded guilty June 1 at the Madison County Courthouse.

ORDERS 200-HOUR PUBLIC SERVICE

Timothy Gamble, 20, of 2916 Grand Ave. was ordered this month by Associate Judge Edward Ferguson to serve a year of probation, perform 200 hours of public service work, make restitution of $1,500 and pay a $1,000 fine and $100 costs.

A charge of aggravated battery was filed March 7 and it later was amended to battery. He pleaded guilty June 2.

Opportunity to study in Italy this summer

The Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a travel/study program in Paestum, Italy, this summer.

With the cooperation of the University of Salerno, SIUE will offer credit and non-credit classes in anthropology, geography, history and philosophy for students who wish to learn more about the historically unique region around Paestum.

Located 20 miles south of Salerno on the west coast of Italy, Paestum is a seaside resort containing some of the most extensive Greco-Roman ruins in all of Italy.

Classes, conducted in the English language by members of the SIUE faculty, will extend from Aug. 25 to Sept. 19.

Courses to be offered in Italy and the faculty members include: Archaeological Research Design (ANTHRO 470-1), Sidney Denny and William L. Woods.

Additional information concerning the travel/study program may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Office of Continuing Education, Box 84, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026-1001, or by calling 1-692-3210.

Burglary leads to 3 years in prison

During a hearing this month at the Madison County Courthouse, Steven Walker, 20, of 1917 Benton St. was sentenced to serve three years in a state prison.

Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick presided. The date of a Granite City burglary was not given. The charge was filed Jan. 3 and Walker pleaded guilty June 2.

BURGALARY PROBATION Associate Judge Edward Ferguson has ordered two years of probation for Paul E. Caviness, 27, of 2601 Cayuga St. Caviness, charged April 27 with burglary, pleaded guilty May 13.

Students may enroll in any of the four concurrently offered courses. Each course carries four quarter hours of credit.

Registration for the travel/study program will cost approximately $1,500, which includes round-trip air fare from Chicago to Rome and train fare from Rome to Paestum. The cost also includes transfers and ground transportation, medical insurance and room and board while staying in Paestum.

Water rate rises 9%

The Illinois Commerce Commission has approved a nine percent rate increase for industrial, commercial and residential customers of the Illinois-American Water Co.

Of the $3.8 million or 21.5 percent increase sought, the ICC authorized $1.6 million. Customers in the Quad Cities and St. Clair County total 63,721, including 55,283 homes.

A spokesman estimated that for most residential water users, the increase may amount to about four percent. But he added that application will be made to the ICC for additional revenue.

Along with the basic district it serves, Illinois-American sells water to Scott Air Force Base, O'Fallon, Columbia, Caseyville, Dupu, Shiloh and Millstadt and the Mitchell, Pontoon Beach and Cahokia communities water districts.

The utility is carrying out a $5 million construction program, including replacement of large water lines at the East St. Louis purification plant.

The ICC said monthly customer bills for low water usage average $14, which is to increase to $14.48. Higher usage customers being billed $29 will see that rise to $30.20.

Illinois-American serves the Pekin and Cairo areas in addition to St. Clair County and southern Madison County. Its 864 miles of main pipes make it the second largest Illinois water utility.

Fantasy fulfilled for Illinois man

A Woodstock man, who buys one to three instant lottery tickets a week, was rewarded Tuesday for persistence as he uncovered an instant $100,000 prize in the Illinois State Lottery's fantasy game.

Nick Polizzi, 63, bought the one-dollar fantasy ticket at the Eagle Supermarket, Route 47, Woodstock, where he works as a clerk. He brought it back to the store to file his claim for the $100,000 prize and talk about his good fortune.

"I like the instant lottery games because they are fun to play and talk about — and you know right away if you are a winner," Polizzi said. "I always thought that if I just played the law of averages, some day I would be a big winner."

"To be honest, I thought about winning $25, $50 or $100 to qualify for the millionaire drawing more than anything else. I cannot describe what a feeling it is to win this much money."

Polizzi becomes the fantasy game's fifth $100,000 winner since it was introduced in May. He plans to buy some security with the money by paying off bills and using it to take trips to visit two of his four children, in Colorado and Oregon.

He assures everyone the money will not change his lifestyle and he will even, continue to play the lottery.

Probation for 4 in Pontoon theft

Nearly identical sentences of one-year probation have been ordered by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill for four persons charged with involvement in a March 5 theft in Pontoon Beach.

The four are Scott Taylor, 18, of 2545 Lynch Ave., Ronald Nelson, 17, of 2220 Orville Ave., Philip Gaudreault, 18, of 1716 Courtney Blvd. and Jerry Jordan.

Each of the first three was assessed a $500 fine and $50 costs. Jordan, whose age and address were not listed, was fined $250 and ordered to pay $25 costs.

Initially, charges of felony theft were filed March 7; these later were reduced to petty theft (less than $300 property value).

Pleas were submitted in April and May in the Third Circuit Court, Edwardsville.

STEAL SHEPHERD

"Duke," a 10-month-old German Shepherd, was stolen from his kennel in the rear yard at the home of James Joyce, 1212 Twenty-Third St. It was reported at 11:50 a.m. Monday. The thief pulled staples from a fence to remove the animal, the owner advised.

TRUCK BURGLARY

A wing window was forced open to get into a pickup truck parked in the driveway of the home of Lacy Boyer, 2312 State St., and steal a metal detector valued at $300 and a tackle box worth $125. A 12-volt battery worth $59 also was taken.

Seek applications for recreation grants

Illinois local government units have until July 1 to apply for federal Land and Water Conservation Fund grants to acquire or develop public outdoor recreation lands.

The federal funds are administered in Illinois by the Department of Conservation or the National Park Service, an agency of the U.S. Department of the Interior. Municipalities, park districts, forest preserve and conservation districts, townships, counties, recreational commissions and other land-managing government agencies are eligible to apply for LWCF grants.

The grants will be awarded for projects to be done in the 1984 fiscal year (Oct. 1,

Offers financial aid counseling at SIUE

Free information and counseling on education after high school will continue to be available to low-income adults through the Educational Opportunity Centers, including the one at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Dr. Frank C. Gamelin, executive director of EOC.

"We have just been given approval of a Federal grant of $416,661 to operate counseling and information centers in the metropolitan area in the coming fiscal year," Dr. Gamelin announced.

The "level funding" grant from the U.S. Department of Education is in the same amount as the current fiscal year. In addition, local colleges, universities and libraries will contribute services to the program to bring the total to more than $800,000.

EOC maintains a staff of seven professional counselors to help unemployed and low-income people determine their career interests and find a course of study to develop marketable skills. The counselors assist potential students in selecting an educational institution, finding financial assistance and applying for admission.

In nearly nine years of operation, EOC has provided information and counseling services to about 33,500 people, more than 11,000 of whom have enrolled in colleges or vocational schools.

"Most of the people who come to EOC for help are unemployed," says Gamelin. "In fact, in the first quarter of this year nearly 80 percent were out of work and were looking to education to help them find their way into the job market," he added.

EOC operates full-time counseling centers in East St. Louis and Belleville and at three locations in St. Louis and St. Louis County. Part-time offices are located in St. Charles, Alton and Edwardsville.

EOC is a project of the Higher Education Center of St. Louis, a consortium of colleges and universities in the area.

Additional information on EOC may be obtained by calling 1-314-991-2700.

SIUE teachers eligible for award

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville President Earl Lazerson has announced two annual $500 awards, made possible by a grant from the McDonnell Douglas Corporation, will be presented to outstanding secondary teachers in the fields of science and mathematics. Selection of the recipients will occur during the fall.

Joseph Gore, dean of the SIUE School of Education, said the teaching awards are an important aspect of the university's effort to enhance science and mathematics education. "In this instance, the University is joined by a major employer of persons qualified in technological fields that require strong science and mathematics backgrounds. Through the awards, the university carries forward its commitment to a partnership endeavor with the public schools in behalf of improving educational opportunities for the citizens of Illinois," Gore said.

Early in September, school administrators will be asked to nominate prospective recipients, who will then be invited to submit application materials. A selection panel, consisting of faculty members in the School of Education and the School of Science and Engineering, will evaluate the nominees' credentials and select the award winners. Awards will be announced and presented in late October.

EUPEL TARRIS 2ND IN REGIONAL SHOW

Eupel Tarris of Granite City received second place honors at the Regional Town and Country Amateur Art Show, June 3 to 5 at St. Clair Square Mall in Fairview Heights.

Jurist for the show was Larry Calhoun, Chairman of the Fine Arts Department at MacMurray College in Jacksonville. The show's 52 entries were contributed by artists from Madison, Bond, Macoupin and St. Clair counties who had won first place in their respective county shows this spring. Madison County was represented by 29 such entries.

Town and Country Amateur Art Shows are sponsored locally by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service through a network of planning committees and volunteer workers. The event receives support from local organizations and businesses.

Persons who are interested in helping with or entering their respective county show in 1984 should contact the University of Illinois Extension Adviser in the county in which they reside.

In Madison County, artists may contact Geraldine Bower, Post Office Box 427, Edwardsville 62025, or call 1-656-8400.

County arts council benefits schools

The Madison County Arts Council, in operation since June, 1981, reported at its annual business meeting in May that during the 1982-83 fiscal year, more than 20 schools in eight Madison County communities benefited from services offered by the Council.

One service, the Performing Artist Series, is designed to provide schools and communities with a choice of monthly programs from September through May. The programs go directly into schools which can buy as many performances as they want throughout the school year.

Because of multiple bookings and financial contributions from local sources, programs are available at reduced costs and additional discounts are offered to schools that book three or more programs in advance. The series is designed to provide children from pre-school through 12th grade with exposure to a wide variety of the performing arts. Available on this year's series were programs in opera, jazz, dance, Shakespeare, ballet, symphony orchestration, choral singing, and Emily Dickinson.

Some of the performing groups are school-based and others are contracted through area arts agencies. School groups that toured the series this year included the Edwardsville High School Orchestra, the Highland Swing Choir and the East St. Louis Lincoln High School Jazz Band.

Diana Enloe, an English teacher from East Alton-Wood River High School provided a one-woman show on the life of Emily Dickinson. Performing groups from St. Louis' Young Audiences and the MUNY Student Theatre Project Company performed "Opera Magic," "Arthur and Merlin," and "Perfume of the Shrews." Also on the 1982-83 series were the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the Edwardsville Dance Company and the Community Civic Ballet Company of Caseyville.

Response to the Performing Artist Series has been promising with a turnover of $13,000 to date. Once schools have booked a program, they usually come back for more, a spokesman said. Two of the most enthusiastic public school districts have been Highland and Wood River-Hartford. Participation has also come from Granite City, Edwardsville, Trist, Venice, Bethalto and Livingston.

Metro-East Lutheran High School, the Edwardsville Montessori School based in Granite City and the O'Fallon Area Arts Council also booked programs this year.

Selection of the upcoming 1983-84 Performing Artist Series will be made in June by a committee composed of three members of the Board of Directors of the Arts Council. Serving on the 1983-84 Board of Directors are: June Branding, Granite City; Richard Prope, Alton/Godfrey; Dawn Means, Bethalto; Dennis Pluta, Collinsville; Birdine Gresham, East Alton; Gary Ragan, Edwardsville; Diane Savoca, federal state agencies; Elaine Stratton, Highland; Margaret Lee, Madison-Venice; Sarah Milford, Roxana-Wood River; John Novotny, school administrators; David Huntley, SIUE; Edith Widicus, Troy-Marine-St. Jacob; and John Stevenson, Worden-Livingston. The Board of Directors of the council manages the fiscal and business affairs of the not-for-profit corporation while the administration and implementation of in-school programs is supervised by the Regional Superintendent of Schools, Harold E. Briggs, and his assistant, Nancy Krehniak, who is executive director for the council.

In addition to schools, programs and services offered by the council are available to community groups, service organizations, YMCA's, colleges and universities, senior citizen centers, and other agencies such as recreation centers. Support for programs comes in part from grants, donations, and contributions from local sources with schools paying the largest portion of program-related costs. Partial support for this year's programming came from the "Farmer's and Merchant's Bank of Highland, the Edwardsville National Bank, the Godfrey State Bank, the First Granite City National Bank, and the Bank of Edwardsville. A campaign to raise local funds for 1983-84 programming will be conducted in July. To obtain further information regarding programs and services, interested persons may call 1-692-4630 or write to the Madison County Arts Council, 201 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville, Ill. 62025.

Serwatka, Roney retiring

Stanley Serwatka, Lake School physical education teacher, has taken early retirement at the end of the 1982-83 year.

He comments, "My tenure has been especially gratifying for I have worked with some outstanding teachers and administrators. May the future of this district and all its personnel have brighter days."

Two honorably dismissed teachers resigned as of May 1983—Lawrence J. Curry and Deena Dalley. Curry cited "pleasant memories that have accumulated during my nine years of service. I hope I have provided each of my students with a set of positive standards and values."

"I pray that the administration and teachers work in conjunction to exercise strength and wisdom in guiding the district out of its current economic plight. The fruits of their efforts will be felt by the lives of many young human beings," Curry concluded.

Deena Dalley said her resignation is cheered on the grounds that the Board of Education has not recognized my extended recall rights, based on my employment as a teacher for the fall semester, 1982-83. Thereby, I must resign to protect my rights to unused earned absence compensation."

Mary Hediger, a Webster School cafeteria employee, will retire June 23. Barbara Lamer, a secretary in the board office, will depart July 12.

Morris L. Roney, a South High custodian, will retire July 15. He has accepted the position of a United Methodist Church in Edington, Mo., and notes "the many friends I have made while working in the school district."

Planning to retire a year from now, in 1984, are Irene Bertels, a Maryville cafeteria employee, and Gerald L. Gorrell, a Prather Junior High custodian.

Retiring three years from now, in June 1986, will be Gordon L. Galbreath, South audio-visual and industrial arts faculty member, and two board office secretaries, Aileen Smith and Ariene Smith.

Galbreath has been a teacher in Illinois for 31 years, including 26 years in District Nine. He said, "The Granite City Board of Education and all concerned have been good to me all of these years."

Ariene Smith commented, "I have enjoyed working in District Nine and appreciate the opportunity to have worked with many fine people."

Aileen Smith, who has worked at South, North, Coldridge and McKinley as well as at the board office, has "gained many fond memories and enjoyed each position."

The board granted a 1983-84 school year leave of absence to Barbara L. Pulmer due to personal illness. She is a South High cafeteria worker.

A previous illness leave was extended from May 28 to June 30 for James J. Dickerson, a Wilson School custodian.

It's easy to clean a Thermal-Gard window. Just tilt it in and snap it right back in place. Many owners say Thermal-Gard windows are worth the price for this feature alone!

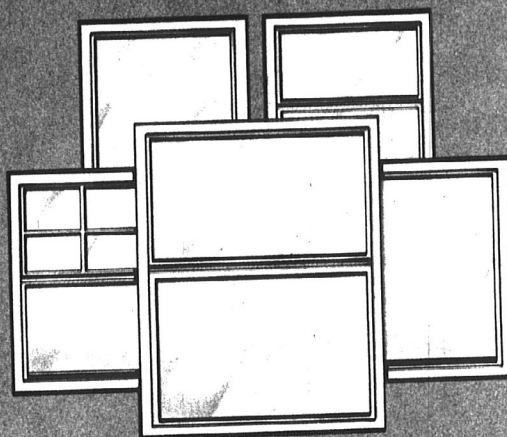

Don't throw your energy money out the window.

If you live in a home built before 1970, you're probably throwing a lot of time and money out the window. In fact, research indicates you're losing close to 50% of your home's energy. Not to mention the time it takes to clean, service, and change your windows each season.

With Thermal-Gard insulated replacement windows, your energy dollars stay inside where they belong. Because Thermal-Gard provides a full inch of dead air space between you and the elements — the most effective window insulation system available. Your home stays warmer in winter, cooler in summer.

And Thermal-Gard windows virtually eliminate:

- ☐ storm windows
- ☐ changing screens
- ☐ sticking and jamming
- ☐ drafts, frosting and fogging
- ☐ window maintenance
